On motion of Mr. BUCKALEW, the clause containing the Legislative Journal contract for the next session was defeated.

Mr. HUMPHREYS moved to restore the section struck out by the Senate committee appropriating five thousand dollars to the Homeopathic Medical and Surgical Hospital and Dispensary of Pittsburgh. This was supported by Messrs. Anderson, Mumma, Strang and Humphreys, and opposed by Mr. White.

The motion to restore the section was agreed to—yeas 21, nays 5.

Mr. DELAMATER moved an appropriation of three thousand dollars each to the Titusville Ladies' Hospital and Meadville Sisters of Charity, which was lost.

Evening Session.—The general appropriation bill was considered till late.

CONGRESS.

Duty on Tea and Coffee.

The Mobile and Grand Trunk Railroad—The Baltimore and Potomac Railroad Depot—Failure of National Banks—Uniformity in Railroad Gauges.

WASHINGTON, March 26, 1872.

SENATE.

MOBILE AND GRAND TRUNK R. R.

In the Senate a bill was passed granting the right of way to the Mobile and Grand Trunk Railway.

INTERNAL REVENUE TAXES.

Mr. MORRILL (Vt.) offered a resolution to repeal a large number of internal revenue taxes.

Mr. MORTON objected and the resolution was withdrawn.

UNIFORMITY IN RAILROAD GAUGES.

Mr. ROBERTS introduced a bill to secure uniformity in the grade of railroads of the United States, providing that the Postmaster General shall require as one of the terms of contracts with railroads for carrying mails that the gauge shall be four feet eight and one-half inches at the expiration of one-half of the duration of such contracts, subject to a reduction of one-fifth of the pay therefor, and also requiring the department in making contracts for carrying through mails to discriminate against railroads that have other gauges; these provisions not to apply, however, to narrow gauge roads guages which do not exceed three feet six inches.

REPEAL OF DUTY ON TEA AND COFFEE.

The tariff bill came up.

Mr. SCOTT moved to lay aside the tariff bill for the purpose of taking up the House bill to make tea and coffee free.

Mr. JOHN SHERMAN said that the tea and coffee trade was paralized by the uncertainty as to the action of Congress, and for the purpose of ascertaining the will of the Senate on the subject, he would agree that the House bill making tea and coffee free should be taken up, though he would not vote for it.

The House bill was then taken up, and Mr. SCOTT offered an amendment providing that it should go into effect on the 1st of July next; also that tea and coffee in bond on the 1st of July shall be free, and that the duties that shall have been paid on tea and coffee in bond on that day be refunded.

Mr. TRUMBULL moved to amend so as to put salt on the free list after the passage of the act.

Mr. HAMLIN suggested that he should add coal; but Mr. TRUMBULL said he preferred to have them voted on separately.

Mr. JNO. SHERMAN said if these amendments were to be passed, they would defeat the object they had in view in consenting to lay the tariff bill aside.

Mr. TRUMBULL said he wished to bring the Senate to a direct vote on salt. He said that the people would be relieved five times as much per head by repealing the duty on woolen goods as by making tea and coffee free.

Mr. MORTON said he believed we could make tea and coffee free, and make the proposed reduction of 10 per cent. on the articles enumerated in the second section of the Senate tariff bill, and repeal all internal revenue taxes except on spirits, fermented liquors and tobacco, and still pay off fifty millions of the public debt next year, and therefore he gave notice that he would offer an amendment leaving tea and coffee free and repealing all laws imposing taxes by stamps, except on spirits, fermented liquors, snuff and cigars, and all laws imposing taxes on gas, the repeal to take effect on the 1st of Obtober, 1872.

Mr. SCOTT said that if Mr. MORTON'S amendment should prevail, he (Scott) would think it a waste of time to consider the House bill further, and would yield the whole subject again to the Chairman of the Committee on Finance (Sherman).

The question was then taken on Trumbull's amendment to include salt, and it was rejected—yeas 19, nays 29.

The amendment to include coal was also rejected—yeas 17, nays 25.

Mr. MORTON then offered as an amendment to the pending House bill the whole of the tariff bill reported from the Senate Finance Committee except the provisions relating to tea and coffee.

Mr. SCOTT appealed to him to withdraw the amendment, but he declined to do so.

The amendment was then rejected—yeas 22, nays 26.

Mr. MORTON then offered an amendment, of which he had given notice.

Mr. MORRILL (Vt.) offered the free list in the Senate bill as a subtitute for Morton's amendment.

Mr. SUMNER said he would vote for Mr. Morton's amendment, although he regarded it as incomplete, because it would leave undisturbed the internal revenue office-holders now burdening the country. This ought not to be left to the discretion of anybody. The bill ought to contain a positive provision of extermination against the whole tribe.

Mr. MORTON said the Secretary of the Treasury had power to discharge unnecessary revenue officers, and that it must be left to him or a committee, the executive officer to judge how many could be spared.

Mr. Morrill's substitute for Mr. Morton's amendment was adopted—yeas 34, nays 13.

Mr. WRIGHT then moved to add the second section of the Finance Committee bill reducing the duties ten per cent. on textile fabrics and manufactures of iron, steel, earthenware, glassware, leather and India rubber. Agreed to—yeas 22, nays 17.

Mr. SHERMAN gave notice that to-morrow he would offer the tariff bill as reported from the Committee on Finance as a substitute for the pending House bill.

Mr. MORTON gave notice that he would renew his amendment for the reduction of internal taxes.

Mr. TRUMBULL said he would offer an amendment to make salt free.

Several other notices of amendments were given, and the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.

BALTIMORE AND POTOMAC R. R. DEPOT.

In the House the bill authorizing a site for the depot of the Baltimore and Potomac Railroad Company on Sixth street, between Pennsylvania avenue and the canal, came up as unfinished business. A good deal of excitement prevailed over the bill, it being regarded as a contest between the Pennsylvania Central and the Baltimore and Ohio Companies, the latter company desiring to share in the accommodations and have a site granted for a grand Union Railroad Depot.

After considerable filibustering Mr. MERCUR presented the conference report on the bill for the removal of the causes to the United States Courts, which was agreed to. Filibustering was resumed.

FAILURE OF NATIONAL BANKS.

After spending the day in voting on motions to adjourn, alternately with motions to take a recess, but without coming any nearer to a solution of the difficulty, Mr. HOOPER, from the Committee on Banking and Currency, presented the testimony taken before that committee in the matter of the failure of national banks, with a resolution that it is the opinion of the committee that the successful working of the Currency Bureau required a change in the head of that Bureau.

The testimony and report were ordered printed, to be called up for future action.

Adjourned.

DOCTOR HOWARD.

A Victim of Spain's Cruelty.

HIS CAREER IN PHILADELPHIA.

Why He Was Sent Into Ceuta.

THE APATHY OF THE UNITED STATES.

(From the Philadelphia Telegraph.)

The attention of the people of this country, and of Philadelphia more particularly, for here he was born and reared, has for many months past been directed to the case of that victim of Spanish barbarity, Dr. John Emilio Howard. After experiencing the grossest indignities that could be heaped on him by the reigning power in Cuba, he is now on his way in a prison-ship to Ceuta, a Spanish penal colony in Africa, where—if Providence or the hand of outraged justice does not interfere—he will undergo the excessive cruelties of eight year's servitude in the chain-gang. There are some features of this unfortunate man's situation that have served to rivet public attention. He is an American citizen, who has never yielded a jot of his allegiance to this nation, and is innocent of the charges that were so wickedly made against him, as there is abundant evidence to show. Yet, with these facts, fully substantiated by the most reliable declarations, under the solemnity of an oath, the conduct of our nation, as manifested by its Washington officials, has been conspicuous for so much vaccillation and apathy as not only to evoke the hearty denunciations of all American people, but even the contempt of the Spanish population in Cuba.

was born in this city on the 5th of September, 1815, his parents then living on South Third street. After attending private school for ten years, he commenced the study of medicine, which he prosecuted with great diligence for a number of years at Jefferson Medical College, and at last graduated with distinguished honors, and received his degree. Shortly after this event, which took place in the spring of 1814, he went to Cuba with his uncle, and settled in Cienfuegos, where he commenced the practice of his profession, which, up to the time of the breaking out of the insurrection still baffling the power of Spain, was large and remunerative. He married, and four children were born to him—three daughters, and a son who for some time was a student in one of our dental colleges, from which he graduated only lately. Though a resident of Cienfuegos for so long a time, Dr. Howard never gave an intention of sundering to his native country. The naturalization laws of Spain are very strict and difficult to comply with. One must live, if a foreigner, five years on Spanish soil before he can even declare his intentions of becoming a citizen, and then his desire cannot be consummated for ten years. Dr. Howard never, by word of mouth, or the indubitable evidence of writing, signified any such intention, and is to-day as much an American citizen as a Pennsylvania farmer who had never been outside the limits of his country.

THE SPANISH AUTHORITIES

claim that he is a subject under their power, and ground this claim upon the hypothesis that by accepting certain grants of lands he surrendered his nationality; whereas the law under which these grants were made, even by the closest interpretation of the text, intimated nothing of the sort, but stipulated simply that the land thus taken up should be improved. The Doctor, as we have said, was prosperously engaged in the practice of medicine from almost the moment he landed in Cuba to the breaking out of the great struggle of the enslaved Cubans for idependece. At the dawn of this crisis the American docter fell under the ban of Spanish displeasure by happening to be the uncle of three as brave and talented men as ever engaged in a noble cause—Frederick Cavada, and Adolpho, his brother, and Colonel Bario.

THESE THREE MEN

early took a leading part in the insurrection, and inspired the struggling Cubans to an intense degree of patriotic fervor. Frederick, who was at one time commander-in-chief of the insurrectionary forces, and who a year ago suffered martyrdom for his cause, was, with his brother, in the thickest of the famous fights in the "Old Dominion" during the Rebellion, and spent a long year in the noisome cells of Libby Prison. Adolpho died only a few years ago, from a disease brought on from exhaustive efforts in the field for Cuban independence, and the events of his life are chronicled in another page of this paper. Bario was executed at Cienfuegos last year.

Family connection with these unfortunate young men brought Dr. Howard prominently to the notice of the Spanish authorities, and for many months he was harrassed by the agents of a general system of espionage. In the latter part of December, 1870, he was arrested at his home in Cienfuegos by the Spanish military authorities, upon a trivial charge, and immured in a prison for ten months, without being allowed an opportunity to disprove what had been so vilely laid to his credit. From his dungeon he sent, through the United States Consul at Cienfuegos, an appeal to our Washington authorities for protection, which appeal was filed in the archives of the State Department, and that seems about all that was ever done with it. Then came before which he was brought four months or so ago. It was held in his prison-house, and was composed of officers who had made up their minds as to what the sentence should be, and only went through a show of judicial proceeding for formality's sake. One charge was that the Doctor had aided and abetted the insurrectionists by furnishing them with a box of medicines. The accused had a number of witnesses at hand to prove that some years before, when there were no signs of the coming storm, he had sold that identical box of drugs to a young Cuban who joined the insurrectory forces. It was then charged that he had harbored wounded rebels, but he brought the people with whom he lived, some of whom were Spaniards, to show that he was entirely innocent of this crime. What was the next step? The conductors of the trial produced a deposition, made by one Manuel Capote a few months before the court-martial, in which he declared that Doctor Howard was guilty of

TREASON!

If there were wanting any more convincing proof that this trial was a mockery of justice, projected to cover a base act of iniquity as ever was perpetrated, we have it in the fact that Capote was coerced into making this false charge against Dr. Howard. Capote was an insurrectionist, and for a time a fellow-prisoner with Howard (who had been his family physician for many years) in the gloomy lock-up at Cienfuegos. He was liberated about six months ago, much to the astonishment of both Spaniards and Cubans, and came direct to New York, where the deep villainy into which he had been impressed as an accomplice came to the surface.

CAPOTE'S RECANTATION

was made in that city on the 8th of February last, under oath, and before the Spanish Consul, and that important document is now in the hands of the Secretary of State. In this formal abjuration he says: "The deposition made by me in the town of Cienfugos against Dr. Howard, in the case brought against him for treason, was made by me owing to the pressure exercised over me by various persons, and by the panic and fear with which they artfully impressed me, alleging that if I did not testify in the required sense I would be killed by the volunteers of the town." He then says, for the sake of truth, that his depssition thus made was "entirely false" and contrary to the facts.

He adds that he had no knowledge of the matters of which he then accused the Doctor. This affidavit is made in Spanish, but our reporter was yesterday shown in this city a certified translation of it. It seems, further that after Capote had left Cuba the military authorities who were plotting the ruin of Howard discovered that he had not given the proper attestation of jurat to make the deposition legal, and they sent to New York to have him add the important words, which he refused to do point-blank. The fact that he would not ratify this iniquitous statement was known in Havana, and was the subject of popular discussion. Nevertheless the tissue of falsehoods had weight with the military tribunal, which returned a verdict that the Doctor was guilty of the high crime of treason. Even to the most ultra-adherents of the crown this decision caused astonishment. But he was an uncle of the brave Cavadas, and deserved all the hatred of the Spanish heart, and must be got rid of some way.

THE SENTENCE

soon followed the decision of the court, and it was that the prisoner should undergo eight years' servitude in the chain-gang, with the confiscation of all his estate, of which he had considerable, to the crown. From Cienfuegos he was sent to Havana, where he arrived on the 15th of Febauary last. United States Consul General Torbert, writing to the Doctor's brother in this city, the letter being dated the 23d of February, says: "Dr. Howard reached here on the evening of the 15th, and I went to see him in the City Prision [An extension of Morro Castle.—REP.] on the 16th, as soon as I heard he had arrived. His sentence had not commenced to be put in execution. I at once interceded with the Captain-General so far as to ask him that he be not sent to work outside of the prison, as it is the regulation, and I was assured that my wishes should be complied with. His servant has just been to see me, and informed me that his hair and beard have been cut off and the prison garb put on, but he has no chains on nor has he been put to work." It seems that the Captain-General, however, does not differ in one respect with officials nearer home, whose promises cannot be relied upon. In a few days he was loaded with chains, and put to work, with criminals of the worst stripe, in the public streets of Havana. Thus wrote a gentleman who saw him in the chain-gang: "He has been incessant in his appeals to his Government, but he feels that it has neglected him:" and well he might. But working in the streets of Havana, this victim of Spanish justice proved a sharp thorn in the sides of the authorities. They felt that so long as he was daily presented as a commentary on Spanish equity, his hardships would be popularly discussed, and perhaps might arouse the dormant sensibilities of the United States. They decided, therefore, to exile him to the penal colony of Centa, where he would be immured for years, never, it might be to look upon the faces of his children or his friends again, as thoroughly cut off from intercourse with the world at large as though he were dead. To permit this, they strained a law under which all convicts sentenced to ten years in the chain-gang were to be sent to Centa, and those with shorter sentences to labor in the streets of Havana, or other cities, and on public works. A few days ago, notwithstanding his term of servitude was eight years, he was ironed, taken on board a Spanish man-of-war, and is now on his way to the far off penal settlement on the coast of Africa. Thus it is that innocent of all the charges made against him, is, by the apathy of the nation owing him protection, carried into cruel exile. That there may be no doubt of his unchanged allegiance, we give here the affidavit of a former Consul of the United States at Cienfuegos, now in the possession of the State Department:—

IN THE CHAIN GANG

"I, on oath, say, that in the latter part of 1868 and the first part of 1869 I was United States Consular Agent at Cienfuegos, in the island of Cuba, and that in the latter part of 1868, or first part of 1869, Dr. Emilio J. Howard, then at Cienfuegos, was enrolled as an American citizen at the United States Consulate in that city; that he was one of a number of American citizens who signed an application to me to have an American man-of-war sent to the port of Cienfuegos for the protection of the rights and property of American citizens; that I never knew him to act or talk otherwise than as a bona-fide American citizen; that I was acquainted with him, and he was generally known as an American citizen; I have never had any knowledge, information, or intimation of his taking any part whatever in political matters in the late disturbances in Cuba."

M. H. H. Morris, Esq., present United States Consul at Cienfuegos, makes affidavit as follows:

"I do hereby certify that on the 25th day of November, A. D., 1870, personally appeared before me John Emilio Howard, physician, and declared himself a citizen of the United States of America, having been born in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania."

Dated Cienfuegos, March 4, 1872.

The Spanish authorities allege that Dr. Howard's father held a Government office, and became thereby a Spanish subject, which is absolutely false, as he never held office under the Crown of Spain.

THIS IS THE STORY of Dr. Howard's arrest, imprisonment and exile. It is based upon affidavits—a large number of them—now in the keeping of the Secretary of State. In the light of this revelation, has not the conduct of the Government been shamefully indifferent to his misfortunes? Perhaps something may yet be done to rescue the innocent man, since Congressman Randall, of this city, on Tuesday, offered and had passed in the House, a resolution asking for full information respecting his case from the Secretary of State.

The final act of injustice was committed a few days since, when an order was promulgated confiscating Dr. Howard's estate, thus leaving his three daughters in destitute circumstances.

THE LAST OF THE TICHBORNE CASE.

The London correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial says: "Sir Roger Charles Doughty Tichborne, Baronet, come forth to hear that you are non-suited!"

Such was the cry of my Lord Chief Justice's Clerk, thrice uttered at the door of the Court-room in Westminster Hall, on the one hundred and third day of the great trial. The vast, seething multitude grew breathlessly still as they heard it. The cry went up among the grim griffins of the cornices, but they only growled back an echo of it; it went sounding up among the stately statues of the old judges and statesmen who keep guard at the doorways of Parliament, but they stared back vacantly, having evidently not seen the burly form of the claimant hiding among them. The clerk returned, to announce that the claimant was not found. The non-suit is ordered. A cheer breaks out on the side of the Tichbornes. The negro Bogle, still with sky-blue cravat, is seen wedging his way through the crowd and flying off like a raven to bear the ominous news to his master. The sentimental Miss Braine follows, then Balgent—evidently very glad to get away. Inside the lawyers are passing the final compliments—Judge beaming on jury looking like men relieved of a nightmare. Ballantyne sits gloomily, evidently smarting, his eyes flashing; he is angry—not unnaturally, for people are asking how should the claimant be guilty of corrupt perjury and his counsel not know it. Sir John Duke Coleridge, the Attorney General, stands at the height of his tall form, erect, his blonde face and blue eyes beaming with the glow of victory. He might suggest to an admirer Turner's great picture in the National Gallery—Apollo watching the effect of his shaft, the puffy Python breathing out his expiring vapors before him. Such a cram and crush as the Court-room witnessed was never seen before: all efforts to keep the crowd out has proved unavailing; people sat on each other's knees, on each other's shoulders, or even heads; they rose up roofward, and piled in stories. The Judge made no effort to stop the applause; the irrepressible cheers broke forth at every new word uttered; the loudest cheers being when the Judge went out of his way to declare his implicit belief in his vindication of Mrs. Radcliffe—who was not present. Then another cheer greets the order for the arrest of the claimant as a perjurer, and the great Tichborne case has ended.

The Tichborne case ends, but the Castro or the Orton case—or whatever it is destined to be called—begins. When the claimant was called to hear himself nonsuited—called, according to an old form, by the name and title to which he pretended—he was a mile off; namely, at the Waterloo Hotel, Jermyn street, there surrounded by the anxious holders of Tichborne bonds. When the tattoo-mark evidence was first broached, there were rumors that arrangements were being made for the claimant's escape out of England. These rumors extended to whispers of a nameless ship hovering on the Hampshire coast, awaiting a weighty bit of human freight. At any rate, I am assured on good authority, that so confident were the authorities as to what would be the termination of the case, that from the hour that the Attorney General rose for his twenty-six days' speech, every movement of the claimant has been watched. Consequently there was no difficulty in arresting him yesterday. The claimant knew that he was surrounded by detectives. With perhaps some lingering trace of respect for the opposing audacity of the man, his arrest was not delegated to ordinary detectives. The Head, the Inspector, and two officers of the police force entered the private room of the claimant, and informed him that they arrested him for that "it appears and does appear to the Lord Chief Justice that he, the said plaintiff in the case of Tichborne vs. Lushington, has been guilty of willful and corrupt perjury in his examination and evidence upon oath, and that there was and is reasonable cause for directing him to be prosecuted." I was not present at this interview. I am assured that the claimant was as cool as a cucumber. He said: "It is very unjust that the case should stop at this stage, and it will put me to much personal inconvenience if I am to be arrested now." It evidently had not occurred to him to look to his bondholders for the sureties of £5,000, and there was nothing left for him but to step into that neat brougham waiting at the door (not by his own order). A few dozen people had collected at the hotel door, and when the carriage drove off it is said many followed it. But the crowd which had been at the court-room had chiefly hurried to Newgate prison, knowing that whenever the claimant should be found this was his destination.

They had not very long to wait. The cry soon went up, "He's coming," and sure enough there he was. Two or three adherents yet remained, and they called out "Sir Roger!" as he alighted, and he seemed about to give his usual Baronial bow to the assembly; but, alas for popular fickleness, those few respectful cries only served to bring out the fact that the man was now almost friendless. Stormy mocking shouts of "Arthur Orton," "Wagga, wagga butcher," hurled about his head, and for the first time he looked really chop-fallen. Then before this mocking crowd he passed up the stairway, and the grim jaws of the Newgate dragon closed on him. The Times of this morning says that when he was inside of the jail he was formally asked his name, and replied, "Roger Charles Doughty Tichborne" (he is on the prison books as Thomas Castro.) He was also asked to give up anything that he might have upon him, and he at once handed over a quantity of jewelry which he was wearing, including a handsome watch and chain and snuff-box, all engraved with the Tichborne coat of arms. He also gave up £73 in money. He was then taken to his cell, which, unless the rumor be true that Lord Rivers means to go bail, he will certainly exchange only for a cell and regime at Portland, less suited to his phlegmatic constitution. Meanwhile, he is to be allowed brandy, and to see his friends, and to accept any additions to the usual prison fare they may offer him.

A LABOR REFORM QUARREL.

The Boston Eight-Hour League Protests Against The Columbus Platform.

BOSTON, March 26.—The Boston Eight-hour League protests against the platform of the National Labor party, adopted at Columbus, Ohio, for the following reasons:

First. Because it does not contain a statement of the underlying principles of the movement, nor propose any measures that will remedy existing evils.

Second. Because it deals mainly with finance, currency, and taxation, questions of little consequence to the laborer, inasmuch as reducing taxation or decreasing interest will result in a corresponding reduction of wages, as wages are everywhere regulated by the cost of living.

Third. Because it did not demand theenforcement of the eight-hour law, and petition for its further extension to the present laws, instead of asking for a law already in existence.

Fourth. Because it did not denounce that barbarism of the North, the factory system that forces tens of thousands of children from seven to fifteen years of age to toil in over-heated rooms eleven and twelve hours a day, a system that is dwarfing their minds, crippling their forms, and rearing a class whose existence endangers the perpetuity of our Government.

Fifth. Because of its neglect to thank the Hon. Geo. F. Hoar for his bill for a National Bureau of Labor, and his demand for its passage by the Senate, and the subsequent appointment by the Senate of a majority of the commissioners from the ranks of the friends of labor.

Ninth. Because it failed to extend its friendly greeting to our brothers in Europe, of every nationality, struggling with us for labor redemption.

THE Richmond Whig electrifies its readers by soberly asserting that Gen. Grant may possibly be sustained for re-election by the Democrats. It adds: "It is not so certain that he cares about the nomination at Philadelphia, and that he will not throw himself into the arms of the 'great liquor-loving and free-and-easy Democratic party.'" The Dispatch, as a choice between two evils, declares its preference for Grant over Sumner, because the latter was the principal agent in the outrages upon the Constitution—said outrages being the Fifteenth and Fourteenth Amendments and the Civil Rights bills.

Sales of Arms Investigation.

Senator Sumner's Protest—Mississippi River Improvement—Nominations—The Condition of National Banks—Delegation from Louisiana.

WASHINGTON, March 26, 1872.

SUMNER'S PROTEST.

The Senate Arms Committee to-day examined Senator Patterson, who testified concerning his conversation with the Marquis De Chambrun. Senator Sumner came into the room and read a protest against his being examined, on the grounds that a Senator acts on his own responsibility while under sanction of his oath and the Constitution, and says he shall not be and cannot be interrogated as to his conversation with other Senators, or as to his confidential communications; and also says that the Constitution Committee is contrary to parliamentary law, its members being unfriendly to investigation. A subpœna was directed to be served on Sumner to appear to-morrow.

SALE OF ARMS INVESTIGATION.

Senator Ames to-day examined Senator Patterson, who stated conversations he had with the Marquis De Chambrun. The latter informed him a year ago that the French Consul at New York and Remington and Ingalls were in some way mixed up with personal interests in the sale of arms to the French, but as he was a French subject he could not have access to books of the War and Treasury Departments to ascertain the facts. Patterson accordingly saw the Secretary of the Treasury and related the conversation he had with Chambrun. The Secretary thought there had been no fraud in the sales and no violation of international law or treaty stipulations. This was at the close of the session, when the matter was dropped. Chambrun said that three or four million dollars had dropped between the American and French Governments, and his object was to get the facts, to be used in connection with the charges against the French Consul at New York. In a further examination, Patterson said that Chambrun told him that he suspected that C. K. Garrison and John Hoey were in collusion for the sale of arms. The witness had no information as to how Sumner obtained a copy of a letter from Remington to Lecesne, nor did he know how Chambrun obtained a copy; nor had he knowledge that any American citizen or Government official was directly or indirectly interested in the sale of arms, except what he heard from Chambrun.

Mr. Patterson testified that at the suggestion of Mr. Morton he showed the President the copy of Remington's letter. The President expressed a good deal of surprise when the letter was shown him, and said he did not think it would turn out that there was any fraud in the sale of arms, and expressed his anxiety to have the matter investigated, saying that if any persons were shown to be implicated in a fraudulent transaction, they should be brought to punishment. The President thought witness should say to the Secretary of War. He did so. The Secretary manifested a good deal of feeling, and said the whole business had been transacted with great propriety, and every transaction connected with the sale of arms was a matter of record, and that he would have it investigated and make a report to Congress.

THE TEA AND COFFEE BILL.

Senator Sherman, in conversation this evening, said that in his opinion the action of the Senate to-day in adopting as amendments to the tea and coffee bill the various sections of the tariff bill as reported from the Finance Committee amounts to a defeat of the free tea and coffee movement, as he believes the Senate will to-morrow strike out the free tea and coffee provision, and leave the bill just as it was reported from the Finance Committee. On the other hand, it is understood that a number of those who voted for the amendment making a general reduction of ten per cent. on important articles, &c., did so with the expectation of compelling some reduction in addition to the remission of duties on tea and coffee, believing the revenue is so large as to bear all those reductions combined. The Committee on Ways and Means will in a great degree be controlled in the bill they will report by the action of the Senate and the extent of the reductions contemplated. Several weeks may elapse before the Committee will be prepared to report.

CONDITION OF NATIONAL BANKS.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, March 24, 1872.

THE INVESTIGATION MANIA.

As a specimen of the folly of setting ten investigating committees to work—not to investigate particular charges made by responsible men, but to hunt up evidence to substantiate or refute newspaper articles, written in the interest of political parties—I quote the case of the Seneca Stone Investigating Committee.

The Supervising Architect, Mr. R. B. Mullett, finding that Senaca stone, of which the Smithsonian Institute, the Metropolitan (Dr. Newman's) Church and other large structures have been built, was equally as suitable as granite, and considerably cheaper, used the same for the inside or partition walls of the new State Department in the cellar basement. For this purpose he bought from the Senaca Stone Company, they being the lowest bidder, six thousand dollars worth of stone. Considering that the stone has been delivered at the price stated, and that the profits cannot exceed $900 or 15 per cent, it would seem unprofitable to find corruption in this. But no. A large number of witnesses are summoned, a stenographer and copyists are employed, and the Government printing office is compelled to print a large book of testimony at $3,00 per day. The cost of this investigation will reach if not exceed, the price of all the Seneca stone used in the State Department. And this is a fair specimen of them all. There are no Government secrets, because the enterprise of the price is such that everything is published from day to day as it transpires, and generally more. Every attempt to find Government secrets by investigation committees is as useless as the attempt to find birds in a last years birds nest.

THE FRAUDS PRACTICED UPON EMIGRANTS.

The State Legislation of New York has recently investigated the Tammany Hall emigrant commission and found that nearly all the surplus head money which the commission held in trust had been deposited in one of the Ring Savings Banks, and has been lost. It is high time that Congress will take this matter out of the hands of these swindlers and pass Conger's bill which extends national protection.

THE CINCINNATI CONVENTION.

It is now ascertained that Sumner never had any intention of going to Cincinnati, and that no other names of prominent Republicans except those already known can be procured. The truth is that the Convention will be so ridiculous a farce that the Democracy will be unable to surrender to them if they are ever so willing.

An Irishman during the war brought three Rebel prisoners into the Federal camp. The officer of the guard asked him "Pat, how did you manage to capture all these?" "Oh faith, I surrounded them."

I doubt not whether the Cincinnati Convention will be able to surround the Democracy, though they station themselves as ten mile posts throughout the country.

THE CONNECTICUT ELECTION.

The State election of Connecticut is exciting public attention. We have reliable advices from a friend who is engaged in the canvass, who gives it as his opinion that Jewett's majority will be at least one thousand. There is comparatively little dissatisfaction among Republicans with the administration, and there are virtually no Schurz Republican bolters in the State. If there are any they keep very quiet.

CATACAZY STILL LIVELY.

The correspondent of the New York Herald from St. Petersburg says that M. Catacazy has arrived, with a story for the imperial ear that is very thin, and invented, most likely, to avert the embarrassment certain to follow the investigation. His tale runs that his house in Washington was robbed of silver plate, and of valuable documents, upon which the ex-minister expected to justify himself before Alexander. He intimates that the burglars were high American officials.

Not long since it was generally thought that M. Catacazy's relation with our Government would be the cause of serious difficulty between our nation and Russia. That idea has been almost forgotten, although it was even rumored that the Czar would request a speedy termination of the Duke Alexis' visit to America—and now we hear that poor Catty's stories are not believed by the Czar and Gortschakoff.

ITEMS OF GENERAL INTEREST.

The tariff question was again before the Senate yesterday, and a final vote was taken on Senator Scott's amendment, to reduce the duty from tea and coffee and place them on the free list. Objections were made on the score that our country could not afford to reduce her sources of income, but in consideration of the prosperous condition of the nation, and the fact that more than one hundred millions of gold are now in the United States Treasury, this objection had little weight, and the amendment was passed by a vote of 35 to 13.

The Japanese Embassy, who are staying here, exhibit a most inordinate desire to learn all the customs peculiar to the "Melican man." The Commissioner of Education has been giving an explanation of our educational system, which Tanaka, a very learned man in the love of his country, is having written out and kept for his own use. This morning a part of the embassy were to witness a delicate operation in the amputation of a leg—Heaven save the loser! while this afternoon all the fire engines in the city are to "squirt" for their benefit in front of the Arlington Hotel.

The Minister from Japan, Mr. Mori, is seriously ill. He receives constant medical attention from the Japanese physician and an American surgeon accompanying the Ambassadors.

Mr. Belmont has given a hint as to where the Democratic Convention will meet, although he gives no idea as to when. In a letter to a Milwaukeean, he suggests that he urge Milwaukee as the place for holding the convention, stating that a western city will probably be preferred.

The Cabinet held a short session yesterday, and talked informally on unimportant matters.

NEW YORK, March 26, 1872.

QUESTIONABLE MODE OF COLLECTING.

A lawyer named Daniel C. Birdsall yesterday made an assault upon ex-Collector of Internal Revenue Thomas E. Smith. Birdsall says Smith owes him money for services growing out of an indictment tried before ex-Judge Fullerton.

THE RISE IN ERIE STOCK.

The rise in Erie was the sensation of the day yesterday. No such excitement has been witnessed before in Wall street for years. Numerous instances are reported of negotiators in stocks having made immense sums. The number of shares that changed hands is estimated at 200,000. The opening price of fifty-two rapidly advanced this morning, and under the stimulus of orders to buy telegraphed from Europe, the price had reached sixty at the close. The World editorially says that Jay Gould alone netted a profit of $3,240,000 and expenses. It is suspicioned that yesterday's business was but a feature of a great plot of Sickles' combination to make colossal fortunes.

The excitement was renewed this morning. The transactions have been enormous, probably aggregating a hundred thousand shares. The advance is due to the transactions of London buyers.

The latest London advices quote Erie at 53¾@54 protected at 54¾@55. The Stock Exchange will be closed on Good Friday.

GEN. ANDERSON'S FUNERAL.

The funeral of the late Gen. Robert Anderson will take place on Wednesday, April 3, unless his relatives meanwhile residing in Ohio express a wish for a date. The Seventh, Ninth and Twenty-first regiments of the National Guard will act as escort. Of the regular army there will be present four foot-batteries of artillery, including Battery "E," Captain Taylor, and Battery "H," Captain Hasian, which formed Gen. Anderson's command while Major of the First Artillery during the bombardment of Fort Sumter. There will be a section of light artillery from Battery "K," First United States Artillery, and four companies of the Eighth United States Infantry. The veteran Sixty-second New York Volunteers, known during the war as the "Anderson Zuaves," as well as the "Old Guard," and several Masonic bodies, have also tendered their services, and will probably take part.

JUDGE CARDOZO'S BANKING ACCOUNT.

It is stated that the Judiciary Committee have in their possession an exhibit of the banking account of Judge Cardozo, showing at various times drafts made by Gratz Nathan, Cardozo's receiver, and corresponding deposits of the amounts by the Judge. The total sum of the transactions reaches about $32,000.

RECOVERY ON UNDELIVERED GOODS.

LOG HUTS UNEARTHED.

Two log huts, eighteen feet high and twenty feet square, were discovered in digging for the foundation of a new building in the rear of 82 Sullivan street. One was evidently a residence of primitive times, and the other a cattle shed.

ERIE AND JAY GOULD.

The Post gives a report that the present Erie directors have made an arrangement with Jay Gould by which for a consideration all proxies on stock standing in his name or those offices of which he has been or is a member shall be passed over to them.

TENNESSEE.

Lynch Law Denounced.

NASHVILLE, March 26.—The mob of last night is condemned and deplored by the mass of citizens. It was gotten up suddenly and its purposes carried out rapidly. Mayor Morris, although informed that it might be expected, had not time to consummate his arrangements to prevent it before the prisoner was shot, taken from jail and hanged to a lamp post in the public square. When Governor Brown and a detachment of Federal troops, detailed to act as a civil posse under the Mayor's directions, arrived, the mob had done its work and the ring-leaders dispersed, and only a crowd of excited lookers-on remained. These were addressed by Governor Brown denouncing the mob law and pledging himself to execute the laws and punish all offenders. Those who participated in the mob are supposed to be railroad men. Sheriff Donaldson is extolled for his bravery in pushing his way through the mob to cut the prisoner down. He risked his life, but failed, although he saved him from death by hanging. The prisoner's wounds are mortal, although he may survive several days.

Later.—David Jones, colored, who was shot by a mob last night, died this afternoon. He made a confession of crimes of which he had been guilty, but denied the shooting of Murray. On the other hand, Murray, who knows Jones, in his dying statement declares that he was shot by him.

POLITICAL.

COAST DEFENCES OF SCOTLAND.

In the House of Commons this evening Mr. Macfie, member from Leith, called attention to a disgraceful neglect of precautions for the protection of Scotland against a foreign foe, and moved that the coast defences near Leith and Glasgow be strengthened.

Sir Robert Anstruther seconded the motion.

Cardwell, Secretary of War, admitted the plausibility of the motion, but argued that Liverpool should be properly defended first; then Glasgow. There was no danger for Edinburgh. Even Paul Jones did not attempt to attack in that quarter. It should be remembered that the great improvement made in torpedoes has revolutionized the systems of coast and harbor defences.

The motion was supported by Lord Elcho, Messrs. Prim, Miller and Kincaid, and Sir James Elphinstone, but was finally negatived by the House without a division.

UNIVERSITY TESTS.

The University tests bill was debated and passed to its second reading by a large majority.

GERMAN EVACUATION.

The Constitutionnel asserts that negotiations are proceeding between France and Germany looking to a speedy liberation of French territory from the presence of German troops, and that Emperor William is favorably inclined towards some arrangement by which this result may be attained. The German Government, says the Constitutionnel, is willing to order an evacuation of that portion of France now occupied by its troops on the immediate payment of 500,000,000 francs of war indemnity and the remaining half milliard francs in yearly installments.

LONDON, March 26.—A dispatch from Paris says if the negotiations for the withdrawal of the German troops from French territory prove successful, the National Assembly will be dissolved

MEXICO.

THE REVOLUTIONISTS DEMORALIZED.

NEW YORK, March 26.—A special dispatch from Matamoras says: The defeat of the rebels was more complete and disastrous than was hitherto known. Trevino and Martinez, revolutionists, who quarreled a month ago, have not since co-operated with each other. The revolutionists are generally demoralized. It is expected they will evacuate Camargo and the whole border very soon. Rocha is probably now marching on Mazatlan, whence he will attempt the capture of Piaz's arms, said to have been accumulated there by the revolutionists. General Zepeda defeated the rebel cavalry on the 18th inst. near Chararts. The rising in Manitalin, headed by the revolutionary chief Veta, has also been crushed, Veta himself being killed.

MATAMORAS, March 24.—General Quiroga, with six hundred cavalry, started for Monterey, leaving General Hinoposo in command of Camago. General Cortina advanced into the State of Nuero Leon and threatens Quiraga's communications with the interior. The revolution north of Sierra Madra appears to be waning.

A FORCED LOAN.

A forced loan at Monterey is being mercilessly exacted. Several foreign mercantile houses have been closed, and the merchants, J. Ulrich, United States Consul, among others, imprisoned.

RAILROADS.

Suit Decided Against Roads in Missouri.

ST. LOUIS, March 26.—The Superior Court yesterday decided an important case affecting the railroads of this State. The case was the North Missouri Railroad Company and M. K. Jessup vs. Constantine Maguire, State and County Collector of St. Louis. The county appealed from the St. Charles Circuit Court. It involved the validity of an ordinance passed by the Constitutional Convention of 1865, which provides that there shall be levied and collected from the Pacific Railroad, Northwestern Missouri Railroad and Iron Mountain Railroad Companies an annual tax of ten per cent. on the gross receipts from October 1st, 1866, to October 12th, 1868, and fifteen per cent thereafter is applied by the General Assembly to the payment of the principal and interest due and to become due upon the bonds of the State issued to said railroads. The defense was that the ordinance is unconstitutional, that it violates the Federal Constitution, and is opposed to the provision which declares that no State shall pass a law to impair the obligations of a contract. The decision is lengthy, and decides that the ordinance is constitutional, and provides for nothing more than the legitimate exercise of the power of taxation. The Missouri Pacific and Iron Mountain roads are equally interested in this decision. The present outstanding indebtedness of these roads is $10,291,000. Their gross earnings since 1866 have been $34,641,484, which would yield from the Iron Mountain $755,292; North Missouri $1,479,587, and Missouri Pacific $2,563,538; total $4,798,417, leaving a balance to be collected in the future of $5,492,583, which would liquidate the State debt issued for the benefit of these railroads. The case will be appealed to the United States Supreme Court.

MICHIGAN.

A Legislator Charged With Selling His Vote.

DETROIT, March 26.—Hon. W. Hill, a member of the House of Representatives, was charged in the open House this afternoon by Swineford Marquett, with selling his vote and influence for money. The matter created a decided sensation. A committee of investigation was promptly appointed. It is alleged that Hill, at the session a year ago, refused to report from the committee of which he was chairman an important bill until the parties greatly interested in the passage of the same feed him by the payment of money. The bill itself is said to be unobjectionable, but Hill is charged with smothering it in the committee until he was paid to report it. He denies the charges. He has been a resident of Lake Superior county for twenty-five years, is agent of several mining companies there, and is well known.

CALIFORNIA.

Arrival of Diaz's Chief of Staff—Earthquake.

Captain Isaac M. Sowers, of the firm of [illegible] & Sowers, has been nominated by the Democrats as their candidate for Mayor of Oil City.

Spring has opened most auspiciously to our trades people, and the promises are that it will prove one of the most successful business seasons that we have ever enjoyed.

The Democratic World calls the abolition of the tea and coffee tax "the free breakfast table folly." It is in favor of retaining the tax on iron, but opposed to abolishing it from the poor man's cup of tea or coffee.

With singular and conspicuous pertinacity the Post clings to Col. Scott as the most available candidate upon whom the Democracy can settle to make war on President Grant. The Post will not open its eyes to discover how things are drifting in the ranks of its own party, else Col. Scott's name would appear less frequently in its columns.

Judge Schofield, of the Nineteenth Congressional District, declines a renomination, and expresses his intention to retire to private life. This is to be regretted, for we have come to look upon him as one of the ablest and purest representatives of the state or country. The state will lose a valuable servant, and his district will find it difficult to fill his place with one so competent and faithful to its interests.

Nashville has the questionable honor of furnishing the latest exhibition of Lynch law in the insane taking off by bullet and rope of the negro Jones. It is now asserted that the ringleaders of the mob are heartily ashamed of their conduct, but remorse will not restore the life they so ruthlessly stole away in the name of justice. Calm thought should be exercised in all matters before action is taken and then regret will rarely follow.

The Democratic editors of the State are to meet in council at Erie next June to fix up things for the coming campaign. These gentlemen, it will be remembered, sometime ago, at Altoona, resolved to work and pull together, to sacrifice their personal independence as journalists in order that at least a show of harmony and concentration of ideas might be made on views pertaining to the men and measures of the hour. The Post is the ring-leading spirit in this great Improvement Company.

Wm. H. Kemble and Samuel S. Moon have brought suit for libel in the Superior Court of New York, against Charles A. Dana, of the New York Sun, for charges published in that paper implicating them in the Evans steal. Mr. Dana has given the required bail, viz. $5,000 in each case. As the truth can be given in evidence in suits for libel in New York, the editor of the Sun will have the opportunity of making his charges good, and clearing himself, or suffer the penalty of his failure to do so.

Yesterday morning, at the residence of her husband in Greensburg, Mrs. Martha [illegible], the beloved wife of D. W. Shryock, Esq., departed this life. She was a lady of no ordinary qualities of head and heart, and, throughout a long and useful life, ever carried with her the esteem and love of all with whom she came in contact. Kind hearted, generous, free to forgive the errors of others while pure and exemplary herself, charitable and good, she has passed away from this life to receive that reward promised all who, neither diverging right nor left, walk the narrow pathway laid out by Him who bore the heavy cross up the steps of Calvary.

The Democrats tried passivism in New Hampshire and now in Connecticut they try new departurism. They have taken an exceptionable man and placed him on a platform which begins by saying: "That the Democrats of Connecticut regard emancipation, equality of civil rights and enfranchisements, as established facts now embodied in the constitution and deserving the support of good citizens of all parties. And that we repudiate with scorn the oft repeated slander of our opponents, that the Democracy of Connecticut are in favor of repudiating any portion of the National Debt, even so much as may have been fastened on us by extravagance and fraud, and that we are in favor of paying that debt to the last dollar." Was it Toombs or Pendleton who contrived that platform? Or perhaps the Democracy of Connecticut have decided to cut the acquaintance of the leaders of the party in Georgia and Ohio.

As the case of our countryman, Dr. Howard, now on his way to an African penal colony for alleged violations of law in Cuba, is destined to create an intense feeling of sympathy, if not to lead to war between this country and Spain, we republish a full account of the entire case on our first page this morning. It is thought, that the Government, immediately upon receipt of Secretary Fish's communication, placing the matter officially before Congress, will be authorized to demand the instant release of Dr. Howard. Spain will have to comply, or war may ensue. At all events, Dr. Howard will be released, either by the Spanish authorities, or, as in the case of the imprisoned naturalized citizen Martin Kosta a dozen years ago in Austria, by our own Government. The case is creating much excitement, and sympathy is everywhere expressed for our countryman. We shall hear more of this ere many days, and we trust all our readers will peruse the full statement on our first page.

It now looks probable that the Republicans of Connecticut will elect Governor Jewell by five hundred majority on Tuesday next, and carry both branches of the Legislature by an increased majority, thus securing a Republican successor to Senator Ferry. The sorehead faction in the United States Senate are looking anxiously toward the coming election, hoping to defeat the Republican candidates, in order that the result may be claimed as a victory against Grant, and favorable to the Cincinnati nominee for President. Unless all signs fail, they are doomed to another defeat, which will equal that administered by New Hampshire in national significance. Republicanism is strong and united; scarcely a sign of dissatisfaction can be found in the ranks, anywhere outside of a few [illegible]. Not [illegible] aspirants for the Presidency [illegible] Republican member of the lower House of Congress has yet been heard to express disapproval of Grant's renomination, and this, of itself, is sufficient to prove that the opposition to him must fail.

The action of Councils with reference to the proposed covered wooden bridge over the Monongahela, opposite Smithfield street, was prompt, energetic, unanimous, and will be approved by every unbiased citizen. We were first disposed to treat the thing as a huge joke, not dreaming that the corporation referred to would think for a moment of building so unsightly and ancient looking an affair as a plain covered wooden bridge right in the heart of Pittsburgh. But it seems they were in real earnest in entertaining the proposition, and we can only express our amazement. We venture to say that if the present company will surrender their charter, another can be formed which will proceed at once to build a bridge at a cost of three-quarters to a million of dollars, and in doing so will secure for themselves a paying investment for the present and future. We congratulate the city, and the stockholders in the bridge company as well, that this short sighted project is in a fair way to be dropped. Give us a modern style bridge, it will prove much the cheapest in the end, and be an ornament to the city.

The Heaters and Rollers of our mills, and they are no unimportant auxiliaries to the running of our great workshops, either as to their number or mechanical abilities, have become dissatisfied with the present scale of wages under which they work and threaten a strike next Saturday unless an advance in prices is granted by the proprietors. The rates asked are, for heaters $1.25 per ton, (puddlers get $9,00 per ton), and an advance or decline of fourteen cents on each dollar of variation in the price paid puddlers. The heaters and rollers will, in case the sliding scale is not agreed to, accept thirty cents a ton advance on present rates, and should neither of these propositions be accepted, work will stop on Saturday as we have stated. Such a strike at this particular time would be deplorable, as without this class of labor, the mills will be compelled either partially or entirely to suspend operations and this too, at a time when the owners can least afford to do so. There is not a mill in this locality that is not now working double turn in the hope of catching up with the immense orders that are ahead of it. It is to be hoped that an amicable arrangement or adjustment of prices will be made, and that the threatened strike may be abandoned. To effect such an end or compromise, a meeting has been arranged to take place on Friday next, between representatives of the heaters and rollers and the mill owners. We hope for the best, for at no season could a strike be made more prolific of damage to the general trade interest than at present. Trade has opened lively, and it would be too bad if a back-set should be received from the contemplated strike.

In our notice of Auditor General Hartranft's and State Treasurer Mackey's testimony on the Evans matter, wherein we expressed a regret "that they did not state all they knew," we were very far from intimating that they intentionally withheld any information which would throw light on the dark subject. They asked permission to be placed on the witness stand in order to vindicate themselves from the slanders of the New York Sun, and this done, they vacated the stand without further testimony being asked of them. We meant to say that we regretted a full, clear, and easily understood statement of the entire affair from beginning to end, was not given by either of these gentlemen, as such a one from them would be believed all over the State. So far, we have nothing but snatches of evidence, gathered at different times, and the prolix sermons of the Governor, which few believe, we are sorry to say. Mr. Mackey is the officer who has been pursuing Evans from the start, in hope of securing to the State Treasury a portion of the money withheld, and it is presumed he knows the entire history of the affair, so far as it has been developed. His statement of the case would prove interesting, and we should like to have printed it for the better elucidation of this mysterious affair. We make this statement in justice to our accounting officials, as our previous words have been construed as a thrust at them, and an intimation that they willingly and designedly withheld information. Nothing of the kind was in our thoughts as we wrote, and we cheerfully and voluntarily do them justice. We are far from believing that either the Auditor General or the State Treasurer is mixed up in any way in the Evans' affair, and we feel satisfied that the investigation will prove that we are right.

EQUALIZATION.

The bill looking to the equalization of valuations in this city has passed the House, and will come up for action in the Senate to-day or to-morrow. It is a mistaken idea which some appear to entertain, that the only result of this bill, should it become a law, will be to advance valuations on rural properties. Of course where such are out of proportion, they will be raised, but the same will take place within the old city. A large amount of property on our principal streets is valued, for taxation purposes, much below its fair proportion, and such will be advanced. The bill provides for the appointment of a Board of Equalization, one member from each ward, whose duty shall be to place a fair valuation upon each piece of real estate within the present corporate limits, and establish a regular percentage of valuation upon the whole. To illustrate: a lot on Fifth avenue said to be worth $5,000, and an acre of ground on Penn avenue worth the same, will be taken together, and assessed at a uniform percentage of value, say twenty per cent., or $1,000 each. The lot in the old corporate limits will pay upon this valuation the full tax levy; whilst that on Penn avenue, in the recently annexed territory, will pay two-thirds of the full tax, as provided for in the act of consolidation. There will be instances, without doubt, where the new law will work an injury, but such have their recourse by asking exoneration from Councils, whilst it will not be doubted that many existing pieces of glaring injustice will be corrected.

On the whole, we think the bill might be tried for one year without detriment, and if found cumbrous, unjust or impractical it can, after that time, be repealed.

WHERE WILL IT END?

It begins to look as though England feared to submit her case to the Geneva arbitration. The United States government has offered to submit the question, what claims shall be presented for final adjudication, to the Board, but England objects and insists that the two governments shall first settle this point between themselves. If this is allowed to open up the whole subject again, after the treaty of Washington has placed it in the hands of the arbitrators, of what use are the latter at all? If England shall dictate just what claims, on our part, shall be submitted, our government should demand the same privilege, and decide what claim England is authorized to submit. In this view of the case, of what use will the Geneva Board be? The whole matter in dispute will have first been settled by the disputants before it can reach the Board for final decision.

It is not denied that England is responsible for losses occasioned by her cruisers; therefore the bills for the actual direct losses suffered through them might be made out at once and presented for payment. But the difficulty is on the claim of our Government for "indirect" losses, we insisting on our right to an award, and England objecting. Why should this not be decided by the impartial board, as well as the inconsiderable item of the actual amount in dollars and cents due us? The present disputed point is of vast international importance, and should be decided for all time by the Commission. England and America cannot settle it, as each is moved by personal interest. Therefore, if the former continues to insist on this point being arranged by the the contending parties, the whole matter may fall to the ground, and both nations will be just where they started from.

And yet there is another view of the matter. Our case has been submitted, according to the terms of the Treaty of Washington; England declines to proceed under the treaty and submit her case until some preliminary dispute is settled. The United States should not trifle longer with her, but insist on judgment from the Commission at the proper time. England may or may not present her case; ours is already in, according to the terms of the treaty, and we can lawfully claim the award by default of the defendant to appear. We shall have the prestige of a verdict, and should England refuse to be held or bound by it, on her would rest the responsibility. The United States can well afford to wait, but every day adds to the difficulty and anxiety of England to secure a settlement.

MATTERS OF MOMENT.

Boston holds up her head and shouts: "I can call Princes from the other side of the vasty deep!" and around the circle of awe-stricken sister cities runs the whispered query; "but will they come when you do call for them."

If any of our readers intend to become newspaper thieves, let them take care to go to Brooklyn, and to steal two different papers. To steal two papers is not a crime there, any more than to steal a million dollars or more in New York.

The Titusville Courier is a Democratic paper, and consequently can scarcely be blamed for heading its editorial columns with a leaded article, which we might regard as very bright, if it were original with the Courier, as its type and position in the paper declare it to be. But as we read it only the other day in another journal we have nothing to say.

The official German paper published at Berlin says the German Government takes no interest in the sale of arms discussion in this country. It is a pity that the Algemeine Zeitung should have said this, for it makes it evident at once that either it or Mr. Schurz has failed to refrain from falsehood. We presume that Mr. Schurz will now proceed to chastise the German Government.

An exchange says: "The women of Vineland, New Jersey, all voted at the town election on Friday, and the town unanimously prohibited the sale of intoxicating liquors. It is a little singular, but perhaps scarcely worth mentioning, that the town was founded as a total abstinence town, and always has prohibited the sale of liquors although the women have not always voted.

According to the Portland Press, Senator Schurz threatened to chastise Nast if he made any more pictures of him. He is perfectly willing to use his own venomous tongue for disseminating unsubstantial rumors, but when the equally venomous pencil of the artist happens to touch him, he squeals. Nast has a better right to ridicule Schurz than the latter has to make charges which he is unable to prove.

Mr. Gounod, the great composer, is about to give some new offspring of his genius to the world. When he has a new production almost ready, he always starts a rumor that he has been overcome with melancholy and has entered a convent or that he is spending the rest of his life in a lunatic asylum. This brings his name prominently before the public and excites an especial interest in the speedily following announcement of his new work. A recent London Echo has learned that he is in a private mad house, and so we are anxious to know what is the name of his new work.

The Volksblatt is in despair about the local option bill; it says so, and it is undoubtedly true, but then the Volksblatt has doubtless long since discovered that desperation is becoming to it, and consequently it gets into that condition as often as possible. It can say that a thing "is fundamentally false in principle and disastrous in practice," and then sigh out that it has nevertheless lost all hope, with much less awkwardness and remorse, and incompatibility than it can do anything else, and having failed to achieve wickedness and dangerousness, it must fain be content with despair.

KIND WORDS.

The Pittsburgh Gazette in its general make-up evinces the supervision of a master "in the art preservative of arts;" and we unhesitatingly pronounce it one of the largest, neatest and best Republican papers of the Union. The Gazette has always ranked high as a partisan, news, literary and commercial journal; and its present editorial and business management is—to say the least—no whit behind any of its predecessors. We are glad to witness late evidence of its prosperity.—Beaver Argus.

The Pittsburgh Gazette gives further evidence of continued prosperity—and what is still better, is "brim full" as it usually is, of interesting and valuable reading matter. The Gazette is in its 87th year, and has just cause for taking pride in the fact that it has for so long a time received the support and sanction of the people, and defied the casualties that have caused so many other journals, which have for a time floated upon the current of public favor, to sink out of sight. Long live the Gazette!—Steubenville Herald.

The Pittsburgh Gazette, the staunch old Republican paper, which commenced its existence before the present generation were born, continues to grow in vigor and beauty as it increases in years and influence. Always candid and dispassionate, though firm and unflinching in its utterances; always reliable in its statements, strong and forcible in its arguments and its reasonings, and always the consistent and unwavering friend of law, of order, of morality and of human liberty and progress, "without variableness or shadow of turning."—Brownsville Clipper.

The old reliable Pittsburgh Gazette is the oldest paper published in that city, has always been fully up to the times as a newspaper, has always pursued an independent but wise policy, and now possesses the entire confidence of a large number of patrons.—Oil City Register.

The Pittsburgh Gazette, the old Republican organ of the western part of the State, is an able and reliable paper.—Lebanon, Pa., Courier.

The Evans Confession.

[From the Philadelphia Bulletin.]

The question of Governor Geary's relation to the testimony taken on Saturday remains. Evans says he paid the Elder Brother none of the money. So far as any direct financial transactions between the two parties is concerned, we must accept this testimony at its full value. Of course it does not prove that none of the money reached that destination indirectly, and it does not explain, at all, the persistent zeal with which Governor Geary has defended Evans against the Commonwealth's case, the illegal assumption of the right to fix Evans' compensation, which belonged exclusively to the Auditor General and State Treasurer, and the entire willingness manifested by the Governor that Evans should get away unmolested, with his heavy booty. If Governor Geary was as disinterested as Mr. Evans makes him out to be, it is most unaccountable that he should have been willing to sacrifice official reputation and dignity in his behalf, as he has done.

Mr. Evans says that he paid $2,500 to the editor of the State Guard, then the Governor's organ at Harrisburg. We have often heard of sums of money levied upon candidates for State appointments and others, "for the State Guard," and "for the Daily Topic," its successor. In this case, Mr. Evans is reported to have said, after the examination on Saturday, that this $2,500 did not go to the State Guard, but merely as a friendly gift to a friend of the editor. This point ought to be a little more clearly stated, and then there ought to be a thorough search into the "subscriptions" to the State Guard and the Topic, which, we are strongly inclined to believe, will lead to interesting developments.

Absolving the Governor, for the present, from the charge of direct participation in the Evans dividends, the testimony shows that Governor Geary placed this huge speculation in the War Claims in the hands of a man loaded down, "over head and ears" in "debts of honor," that vague phrase which covers all obligations to which men dare not confess. The debts of the gambler and speculator are "debts of honor," and Mr. Evans, staggering under $250,000 of such debts, is taken up by Governor Geary as a man eminently fitted for the collection of millions of dollars, and is allowed to pocket hundreds of thousands of dollars, without a single regular account being exacted from him until four years and more after his regular booty has been gained and expended upon his "debts of honor." Mr. Evans' evidence makes Governor Geary's conduct throughout this strange affair more inexplicable than ever. If he had not the motive which has been generally attributed to him, what was the motive that induced him to run his neck into the very noose of impeachment, in behalf of the broken-down bankrupt that Mr. Evans now confesses himself to have been? His long-winded statement to the Committee affords no clue to his action, and a deeper mystery envelopes the affair than before. A well conducted impeachment of Governor Geary, if the game should be considered worth the candle, at this late stage of his career, would probably reveal a mass of interesting facts, some of which might illuminate this dark object. But the Investigating Committee, while it has worked boldly and skillfully has not yet fathomed the mystery of the great divide.

The Bangor Whig says: A few days since, while the driver of a stage was doing some business in the postoffice of a town, his horses took fright and commenced to run, whereupon, two ladies alone in the coach, crept out of the windows on either side, crawled up to and upon the box, and together [illegible] up the horses. This done, they turned round and went back for the driver, who was in a terrible fright lest his team should meet with a general smash-up.

FROM OUR EXCHANGES.

A lady writing from Paris gives an account of a visit she made with a certain madame to a convent to see the madame's daughter, who was on the eve of marriage. The young lady was just seventeen, and had been ten years with the nuns. The gentleman she was betrothed to was forty-eight, a large, tall, fine looking man, who had grandchildren. The girl was very pretty and modest looking, and seemed excited and interested in her prospects. She asked her mother questions with a certain reserve, as though afraid to go too far. While the mother was conversing with the Abbess the lady and the young fiancee talked. She had seen her intended husband twice. "Did she like him?" "Oh' yes; he was very kind; he had sent her beautiful flowers and boxes of bon-bons." "Did she want to marry?" "Yes, indeed; she was very anxious to see the great world, to have her carriage and horses, and fine dresses and jewels. Mamma had told her Monsieur was very rich, and would be very kind to her. He had sent mamma very handsome presents for her. She had a friend in the convent who was married about two years ago, and she was so happy, but her husband was killed during the Commune. Her friend had told her how delightful it was to be Madame, and to be able to go out and have such heaps of fine things. Alas! her friend was a widow now; she was spending the time of her mourning in the convent. The fiancee confessed in a low tone, and with a furtive look at her clothes, that she was very anxious to leave the convent.

Prof. Von Sybel, lecturing at Bonn on "What the Germans may learn from the French," concluded with this good advice: "It would be most dangerous for our safety not to appreciate the valor of our neighbors, and to look upon them as a used-up people. The French are laborious, spirituel, full of taste. They surpass us in several respects. They are different from us, but quite as well endowed. It would be very fortunate for the world if they gave us the possibility of reciprocal compliment as before the war, by the interchange of our mutual advantages, and by rivalry on the field of peaceful labor. But as long as they remain hostile it would be a fatal folly on our part to forget for a single moment that we have reason for keeping our forces closely united. The greatest disadvantage of the French comes from their institutions and their ideas on State and Church, which, unable to reconcile authority with liberty, waver unceasingly between arbitrary power and revolution. If we wish to be superior to them, we must above all carry our efforts into this field. We can be the strongest people of the earth, if we know how to learn from the French in many respects—in social relations, industry, science, art, and if at the same time we resist the temptation of falling into their weaknesses and faults in politics and religion."

The New York Evening Post says: As far as the points are concerned on which it was supposed the constitutionality of the Ku-Klux laws would be argued and decided, the efforts of Messrs. Johnson and Stansberry have come to a "most lame and impotent conclusion." The case was thrown out of Court yesterday on the ground that there was no jurisdiction of reviews in matters in which there is a clear right of discretion in the lower Court, as was the case in regard to the point in which a "certificate of division" in the Circuit Court was issued. The case will now come up on a review of the final judgment, a writ of habeas corpus having been issued for the relief of the prisoner, and we shall probably have at last a decision on the main point at issue. So far as the prisoners are personally concerned the public has but little interest in their fate, for they have been proved villains. But the public has an interest in having the principles on which personal liberty rests protected and sustained. The difficulties experienced of late years in bringing any laws of Congress to a judicial test are so discouraging, that the power to check unconstitutional legislation, which the Supreme Court was intended to possess, has almost ceased to exist.

It is impossible not to be struck, says the Pall Mall Gazette, in reading the faits divers of French journals, with the perpetual suicides which are daily recorded by the press. The Morgue is too small to contain all the bodies found in the Seine, and not a day passes without the announcement of deaths by charcoal in the lower quarters of the capital, and even in the more aristocratic parts of the town. The yearly records show also that the lunatic asylums are overcrowded; and that their inmates have more than doubled in the course of the last year. In fact, the Paris maisons de sante, taking into account the private establishments conducted by medical men, are barely sufficient to accommodate the overwhelming number of lunatics. Several distinguished mad doctors have been so struck by this increase of madness and suicide that an inquiry has been instituted, and most of these savans express the opinion that the greater part of the lunatics under their examination have become deranged by the strain of the political misfortunes which have afflicted France. This tendency to insanity is especially remarkable among the Communist prisoners at Brest, Cherbourg, Lorient, and elsewhere. Two per cent. of these have become lunatics since their imprisonment.

In the epidemic of disastrous fires that are now raging throughout the world no more severe loss has been inflicted upon civilization than the Dusseldorf Academy of Fine Arts; for with it were destroyed some of the noblest works of the old masters that time has left to us, and, as pictures, unlike books, cannot be duplicated, every fine work of this description that is destroyed becomes an irreparable loss to the world. Independently of this, however, the academy is entitled to our respect as the finest school of art in Germany. Within its walls were educated the two Achenbachs, Lessing, Knaus, Myer von Bremen, Hanselclever, Bleibtreue, Overbeck, Cornelius, Bierstadt, Leutze, and a host of others who have become celebrated in the realms of art. The building itself was one of no slight historical interest, it having been the residence of the Elector of Cleve Berg, whose bronze statue adorns the market place of Dusseldorf. When Napoleon Bonaparte swept the electors and useless princelets away, the building which had been a royal residence went through various fortunes until it at length became the centre from which the teachings of one of the most elevated schools of modern art sent some of the finest painters of our day. The loss of such a place is a loss to the whole world, for until it is replaced, art will receive a check that may prove of incalculable injury.

The Boston Globe says: The amendment to the State constitution giving women the right of suffrage, was again considered yesterday afternoon in the House of Representatives. Mr. Ely, of Newton, offered an amendment providing for obtaining the opinions of the women of the State upon the subject. Mr. Towne, of Fitchburg, who was in charge of the bill, and who, if he is not careful, will get a reputation for being careless, this being the second time that he has disappointed his friends during this session, was so busy that he did not notice the amendment and it was adopted. As soon as he discovered the ruin which had been wrought, he moved a reconsideration, which, after a long debate, was carried by the casting vote of the Speaker, and the amendment was rejected. The House then refused to adopt the resolution, 77 voting in its favor and 135 against it. The vote is the largest of the session upon a call for the yeas and nays, and the result, after the protracted hearings and long debate, we hope will convince the friends of the measure that it is policy to allow the matter to rest where it is.

Here is the stump speech in the form of a prayer, that caused the Chaplain of the Massachusetts House to be called to order:

"The earth is thine, O Lord, and the fullness thereof; the world and they that dwell therein; and now another of the world's great questions presses into this chamber for an answer: What shall we do for woman? And clamor answers, Let her vote; clamor answers again, Don't let her vote. Clamor thunders—clamor whines—clamor prays—clamor jeers. Shall we heed the jeers of clamor? God forbid! If there be any stain of a right withheld from those bright, blessed beings who as mothers, wives, sisters, daughters, companions, friends, make up so much of the happiness of commonwealth homes, give us wisdom clear enough to see, and will strong enough to expunge that stain from the records of our otherwise prosperous State."

The prayer was really addressed to the gallery, where a great many prayers go, because a large number of woman's rights females were present.

The correspondent of a London paper asks who are the scavengers of New York city. He answers his own question by replying "The women of New York city." Going on to say they ape those of London and Paris, the latter of whom ride everywhere in their carriages, and wear trains, therefore the American women, who mostly walks, thinks she must also put on a train to go in the street, and does so, moving wearily along and dragging her train, which in turn drags all the dirt and impureness of the street through which she passes, swabbing it against her skirts and stockings in the most disgusting manner. He goes on to enumerate the articles over which her train passes in the course of a promenade, but the list is too "nasty" to dwell upon. He further says that any woman seen in the streets of London trailing her dress after her in this fashion would be hooted at and followed by a crowd.

Harvard University has acquired, by purchase and bequest, much valuable land within the corporate limits of Cambridge. A custom, which by lapse of time has come to have almost the force of a law, has kept this land untaxed. Now, Cambridge proposes to do away with the custom; against which Harvard vigorously protests. President Elliott claims that the University, by attracting to the place a thousand young men, is a constant source of revenue, so that it already pays very heavy indirect taxes, and ought not to be required to do more. To this, the town replies that the same argument would apply to any manufactory, which increases the population by attracting workmen, and that its manifest absurdity in such a case proves its worthlessness everywhere; and that it is unjust to tax poor citizens to pave roads and build sidewalks for the benefit of a rich college. As the town has both the power and the will, it is probable that Harvard will no longer escape taxation.

An instance of blind bigotry has occurred at Managua, in Nicaragua. Two Americans, Capt. Cunningham and Mr. Simpson, were walking quietly through the streets, when they saw coming toward them a possession, consisting of a priest carried in a sedan chair, with the Holy Sacrament, and escorted by soldiers. They turned down a by-street in the direction their business led them, when suddenly one of the soldiers, detached himself from the possession, and, running some forty yards out of his way to where there were, without saying a word struck Mr. Simpson with his bayonet and made a savage thrust at Capt. Cunningham, the bayonet passing through the nose and under the left eye, causing a severe wound. Both gentlemen had only been in the country a couple of weeks, and neither of them spoke a word of Spanish. They did not know it was necessary to take of their hats, more particularly as they were some fifty yards from the street down which the possession was passing, and both of them state that had any one asked them to take of their hats, or even made a sign to them they would immediately have complied. The fact becoming known to the Commandant he at once caused the soldier to be arrested, and he is to be punished, although the unfortunate man says the priest gave him the order.

General Sickles.—Daniel E. Sickles, United States minister to Spain, will positively return to that country. His relations with the Administration and Secretary Fish are entirely cordial. The President expresses great satisfaction with General Sickles' management of the Erie affair.—Philadelphia Press.

RUPTURE TRUSSES.

Every one who may be afflicted with rupture of the bowels ought to wear a properly fitting truss to secure them from the danger of strangulated rupture, that is, when the rupture comes down so that it cannot be returned. Strangulated rupture is a fearful condition, and one which need never occur, if those who are ruptured were to wear a truss with sufficient power to remove the protrusion.

There are hundreds of people who have rupture who do not seem to be aware of it, nor of the attendant danger which it involves.

Every case of rupture can be relieved, and many of them cured, by timely attention. This is the time of year when such things show themselves, owing to the relaxation of the system incident to the changes of climate. Dr. Keyser, at his office, 167 Liberty street, is supplied with trusses, and has them to suit every age and condition, and at all prices.

WHAT SPRING BRINGS WITH IT.

Regarded from a medical standpoint, Spring is not the delectable season described by vernal poets. On the contrary, its yield of intermittent fevers, bilious attacks, rheumatic pains, disorders of the stomach, nervous complaints, and pulmonary diseases, is almost as large as its crop of violets, snowdrops and cherry blossoms. The invisible seeds of innumerable maladies rise with the morning mists, and are scattered broadcast by the vapors of night. Who can resist their mephitic influence? Certainly not the weak by nature, or those whose nervous energies have been overtasked by mental or physical labor, unless they tone and invigorate their systems, and thus enable them to cope with the unhealthy influences by which they are surrounded.

The only medicinal agent by which this object can be rapidly and safely accomplished, is the great vegetable renovant and invigorant, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. The operation of this celebrated specific is four-fold. It strengthens the digestive organs, regulates the secretions, improves the condition of the blood, superinduces a regular habit of body, and thereby imparts such vigor and elasticity to the whole physical structure as to render it capable of resisting the action of the poisonous miasma, with which the spring atmosphere is always to some extent impregnated. Here, then, is a ready and certain means of escaping the disorders prevalent at this season, or (if they have already fastened upon the system) of conquering them speedily and thoroughly. The flavor of a medicine is not of much consequence, provided it does its work properly, but of Hostetter's Bitters it may be fairly said, that they effect a cure without outraging the patient's sense of taste.

PRATT'S IMPROVED BRACE AND SUSPENDER.

An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure. Be admonished in time and wear Pratt's Brace. Its most prominent parts are:

1. It is free from all irritating pressure under the arm. 2. It greatly adds in expanding the chest and preserving a graceful and erect form. 3. It gives full and free action to the respiratory organs, thus promoting the general health of the system. 4. By preserving the body in an erect and normal position it facilitates and equalizes the circulation of the blood, imparting thereby cheerfulness to the mind and vigor to the body. 5. In design and workmanship it is without a rival in the market. 6. It is a Brace and Suspender combined.

Special Attention

is called to the following threatening notice, published by the Babcock Fire Extinguisher Company:

"All parties are warned against buying or using fire extinguishers of any kind in which water impregnated with carbonic acid gas is used as the extinguishing element, except those manufactured by our company, on pain of immediate prosecution for infringement."

This idle threat, of two years standing, is only made to intimidate the public from purchasing the Gardner Extinguisher, which is totally different from the Babcock machine, and superior to it in every respect.

The claim set forth in the above extract, to the exclusive use of carbonic acid gas and water, is utterly false, and they dare not bring the matter before the courts. The

GARDNER EXTINGUISHER

Is fully covered by Letters Patent, and this company will guarantee the most ample protection to all purchasers. It has been adopted by the Supervising Inspectors, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, the leading steamboat lines of the country, and by the fire departments of a number of our largest cities, and has saved MILLIONS OF DOLLARS' WORTH OF PROPERTY FROM THE FLAMES. Having four times the extinguishing power of other machines, it is naturally superseding the old-fashioned extinguishers, and undoubtedly stands without a rival.

ADDITIONAL TESTIMONY

Excellent Qualities
OF THE
BURKE & BARNES'
Fire Proof Safes.

CHICAGO, January 25, 1872.
Messrs. Burke & Barnes, Pittsburgh, Pa.:
GENTS—One of your No. 8 Safes, purchased by us a few years since of Messrs. Hall, Kimbark & Co., was in our store during the great fire of October 8 and 9, 1871. We think our books and papers were preserved as well, and perhaps better, than the average of books held in safes of other manufacture.
Yours Respectfully,
S. J. SURDAM & CO.

OFFICE OF COOLEY & DWIGHT,
Commission Merchants,
No. 53 S. Canal street,
CHICAGO, November 1, 1871.
Messrs. Burke & Barnes, Pittsburgh, Pa.:
GENTS—We take pleasure in adding our testimony to the valuable fire-proof qualities of your Safes. We had used one (No. 10) about seven years, and during the recent disastrous conflagration in our city, it contained our books, papers, and a large amount of money and valuable collaterals, which we found, upon opening, in a very good state of preservation. The damage to our papers was but trifling. The binding of our books, in most cases, broke off when removed, but several of them have been rebound and are now in daily use. The currency and vouchers in the small wooden drawers were scarcely injured, and we had no difficulty in using them. Our office was located in the Chamber of Commerce, one of the largest buildings burned, and owing to the intensity of the heat, and all supply of water being cut off, by the destruction of the City Water Works, we were obliged to defer removing it from the ruins for three days, and then it was taken from a deep bed of burning material. We deem the trial sufficient to satisfy any one in regard to its fire-proof qualities.
Respectfully, Yours,
COOLEY & DWIGHT.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,
FOR DISEASES OF THE THROAT AND LUNGS, SUCH AS COUGHS, COLDS, WHOOPING COUGH, BRONCHITIS, ASTHMA AND CONSUMPTION.

The few compositions which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation or maintained it so long as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvelous cures, which have won for it confidence in its virtues never equalled by any other medicines. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed, the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, which is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords in sudden attacks, by its timely use.

—The Chicago Tribune, of Monday, says: There was a moderate amount of trading in produce circles to-day, at lower prices in breadstuffs, and a little firmer feeling in provisions. The weakness in grain was due to general causes. Prominent among them we may note a lower tendency in Liverpool, owing to fine weather there. A powerful local cause was the growing stringency of money; or, rather, the fear that money will soon be stringent, as a great deal of that which was unemployed during the winter is now wanted to pay for building materials, etc., and much of it will go out of the city, now that the Relief bill permits the purchase of materials abroad. Then it is remembered that there will be so much of a pressure to bring stone and lumber here, that the vessels already loaded with grain will not be able to take out second cargoes till the summer is pretty well advanced, leaving our elevators full, with large quantities of grain pressing in from the country, being already sold, to arrive here. Of course freights will be high in consequence of the increased demand, and the whole tendency of the situation will be to make grain heavy here, though it may be wanted elsewhere. These thoughts to-day outweighed the fear of short crops, so prevalent for the past two or three days, and made many holders so weak as to be almost panicky. Numerous orders to sell at the advance established yesterday, made the number of sellers even greater.

—The New York Shipping List says: The Secretary of the Treasury has, after careful consideration, allowed a drawback of three cents a pound upon refined crystalline sugar, the product of imported sugars, when exported. This will not only stimulate the product of our sugar refineries, and the importation of sugars to supply them, but it will furnish freight for export. Formerly a large and profitable business was done in sending refined sugar to South America and other ports. This branch of trade has been cut off, because sufficient drawback was not allowed. It will probably revive under the new and liberal allowance.

Closing quotations as received by James T. Brady & Co:

Gold	109⅝	U. S. 10-40s	107⅞
U. S. 6s. 1881	114⅜	5-20 Jan. & Jy '65	——

U. S. 5-20s, '65	112⅜	U. P. R. R.	——

NEW YORK, March 26, 1872.

Gold strong at 109⅞@110. Loans made flat to 5 per cent. for carrying. Clearances, $23,500,000. Governments dull and steady. The Stock Exchange to-day passed through another remarkable excitement in Erie, and the total business must have exceeded 200,000 shares. The price of Erie advanced 8 per cent. yesterday, and at the highest point to-day was 7½ per cent. above the highest point yesterday. The contest for the control of Erie at the next election seems to have narrowed down to Heath & Raphael and Bishoffheim & Goldschmidt, of London. The course of Erie to-day was as follows: 64@67½@66½@67@64⅞@66½@64¾@66⅞@65½@66⅞@64⅞@65⅜@64⅝@66@63⅜@64@61½@64@63@63⅞@63½@65¾, ceasing at 64¾. The sharp advance here enabled many foreign bankers to sell out on the American public large amounts of stock at a great profit, which were bought for London and the continent. During many hours of the day Erie was higher here than in London, and the load of stock put on the market by foreign bankers was the chief cause of the break this afternoon. The excitement in Erie had an unsettling effect on the balance of the speculative list, and at times the stock market was demoralized. The general list fluctuated ⅛ to 1½ per cent. and the changes were most marked in Northwestern common, Boston, Hartford and Erie, Pacific Mail, Ohios, Wabash, and St. Paul common—the latter very strong. The market was heavy at, intervals, but late in the afternoon a steadier feeling prevailed. Union Pacific was dull most of the day at 38⅛, but at the close had advanced to 38⅝. Boston, Hartford & Erie advanced 2 per cent.; at close the market was quiet and firm. Money active at 7c gold to 1-32; at close declined to 5@6; some of the banks report large orders for currency from the interior Southern securities dull and steady.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
TUESDAY, March 26, 1872.

APPLE BUTTER—May be quoted at 55@65 for common to medium and 70@75 for prime to choice.

ASHES—Soda Ash continues scarce and firm but prices are unchanged; common, 7 cts; refined, 8. Nitrate Soda, 5½; Pots, 10; Pearls, 11.

APPLES—There is a steady demand and we can report regular sales at $3@4 ₩ bbl. for common to fair; $4,50@5,00 for good to prime, and $5,25@5,50 for choice to fancy.

BUTTER—The supply of strictly prime butter continues short of the demand, and prices are fully sustained, 30@32. Medium to good may be quoted at 25@28 and common at 15@20. The demand is most urgent for the best.

BEANS—Scarce and there is considerable inquiry; may be quoted at $2,50@2,75 ₩ bushel.

BROOM CORN—Continues exceedingly dull and the long looked for improvement in the demand has not yet arrived; prices are nominally unchanged at 5@9 cts. ₩ lb. according to quality.

BUCKWHEAT FLOUR—Is quoted steady at 4½ cts ₩ lb, and $8,50 ₩ bbl.

COUNTRY LARD—May be quoted at 8@8½ cts for round lots, and 9 cts in a jobbing way.

CRANBERRIES—Sales at from $12 to $16 ₩ bbl, according to quality.

CARBON OIL—Continues quiet and unchanged; 20 cts by the car load and 2@3 cts additional for smaller lots.

CHEESE—Is quiet and unchanged; 19@20 for Goshen and 17@18 for Factory. The markets east, are scarcely so strong, which is evident from the fact that some of the eastern houses are soliciting orders.

CANNED GOODS—There is a fair demand but no change to make in quotations; $4,50@5 ₩ case for Tomatoes; $6@7 for (3 lb. cans.) Peaches, and $5@6,50@7 for Corn, according to brand and by the way the brand has almost as much to do with this kind of goods as the quality.

CONCENTRATED LYE—$5,25 ₩ case.

DRIED FRUIT—Peaches unchanged; halves, 9@9½ to the trade and 10@10½ in small lots; mixed stock, 7¾@8 and quarters, 6¼@7. Apples unchanged, at 7@8 for fair to good and 8½ for choice.

EGGS—Market weaker and trade was generally reported slow with sales at 24@25, mostly at the inside quotation.

FLOUR—The general tone of the market is perhaps a shade firmer, but trade is only fair and prices remain unchanged. We continue to quote at $7,40@7,60 for common to good spring wheat; $7,75@7,80 for choice; $7,50@7,75 for fair to good red winter and $7,90@8 for choice and $8,25 for fancy. Rye Flour, $5,50.

GRAIN—The operations in Wheat continue very meagre, and, while the offerings are light, it is equally true there is not much inquiry; the mills are only offering $1,60 for red, but we heard of a sale to-day at $1,64. Oats, generally reported quiet, and white cannot be fairly quoted above 49, and mixed at 47@47½. However, the offerings are not large as dealers generally, particularly those who have their Oats in store, are indifferent about selling at quotations. There is some inquiry for Ear Corn, mostly, however, for small lots, and, while the market is firmer, in consequence of a temporary scarcity, prices are not quotably higher; 58@60, and the same quotations will answer for shelled. There is some inquiry for Rye, and it is selling readily at $1—receipts and offerings continue light. Barley quiet and unchanged, 75@80 for spring, and 80@85 for fall.

GROCERIES—The market, in a general way, is devoid of anything particularly new or important. Coffee is weak and Sugars ditto. Trade fair for the season, but there is room for improvement.

(Our Fifth avenue cotemporary continues to be considerably exercised in regard to our strictures on its grocery reports, and it is not at all surprising. In its issue, of yesterday, it occupies considerable space in endeavoring to extricate itself from the very unenviable position in which it has been placed, and, in so doing, wanders off and attempts to divert attention from the real point at issue. It stated on Tuesday, of last week, that the eastern Coffee markets were "excited, and that an advance of half a cent, gold, had taken place;" this we pronounced untrue at the time, and we reiterate that it was without foundation in fact. Anyone who will take the trouble to examine the eastern commercial papers, of last week, will search in vain for any notice of this half cent advance, or any advance at all, and, furthermore, from that time up until the present, there has been no advance whatever. If our cotemporary has been miseled into making this statement, it should say so, and not persist in attempting to stand on untenable ground.

By the way, to give a little more variety to the discussion, and as our neighbor seems to be in a critical mood, we would like to know, if it is not asking too much, who it gets its quotations for Clover Seed from? We know of quite a number of parties who would be glad to sell at its quotations, or something less. If it can find buyers for a few hundred sacks at its quotations, we will then give some attention to that 1,000 bags of coffee to which it refers. No dodging, neighbor. You can't fall back on Ezra, Wheeler & Co. this time.)

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
TUESDAY, March 26, 1872.

Trade continues very quiet and prices are without important change. Crude—at Parker—a shade firmer; sale 500 bbls. at $3,40—it is said that, later in the day, $3,42½ was bid. Refined—spot or March, 21¼; April, 22; May, 23.

Until the difficulties in regard to transportation are fully and satisfactorily adjusted, it is not likely that business will improve much. A dispatch from New York to-day reports that the different railroad companies had had a conference, and that a uniform rate of freight had been agreed upon.

Iron Markets.

PHILADELPHIA.—(Edward Samuel's circular.) Pig iron has again advanced under the stimulus of further demands from the west, and bids fair to go higher. Many buyers attribute the rise to speculation, but it has been undoubtedly caused by the strong foreign markets, and the large domestic demand for all kinds of manufactured iron. The market is therefore healthy and firm, and, although slight reactions may take place, it is more than probable that the present high figures will be maintained. There is no change to note in old rails. In wrought scrap there have been higher sales than the quoted figures, but the price is so dependent on quality and selections that it is difficult to name a fair price.

Below are the closing prices of the past week:

RIVER NEWS.

The river remains about stationary at this point with 30 inches in the channel. The rain on Monday night, we regret to state, was of short duration and the prospects for water are by no means encouraging.

The Julia, No. 2 from Zanesville, arrived on Monday night and departed again last evening. She had a good up trip, consisting mostly of produce.

The Monongahela river packet, West Virginia, arrived and departed as usual.

The E. H. Durfee and Esperanza for St. Louis and the Exporter, for New Orleans, will depart as soon as there is sufficient water.

—Capt. E. W. Gould writes from Washington to his steamboat friends at St. Louis as follows: I am glad our people are waking up to the importance of looking after their interests. If they had done that years ago, they would not now be in so much perplexity. We are in pretty good force here on the steamboat bill. Sherlock, Isham, Sherley, Copeland and myself are yet here. I believe the bill received its final finishing touch by the Committee on Commerce yesterday. We succeeded in getting them to adopt several of our amendments they had stricken out and among other amendments they have inserted the law of 1851 for our forty-third section, with such amendments as to make it entirely satisfactory to us. Conger has withdrawn his opposition to the bill as now amended, and, so far as we can learn, there is no opposition to it from any source. If we can get it through as it now stands, a great triumph of justice will have been secured to the navigation interests.

—The New Orleans Times, of Thursday, says: Yesterday being the day appointed for the disposal of the steamer Sabine, at U. S. Marshal's sale, drew together a large number of our boatmen and others, who were anxious to learn the amount see would bring, and at 12 m. the Marshal came down the entrance steps of the Custom House and read the mandate of the court and started her at $300, and from that figure it advanced to $7,600, and was knocked down to Mr. Roger Boyle, Secretary of one of our dry dock companies.

—Capt. Pink Varble gives it as his opinion that the cause of the sinking of the steamers Sam J. Hale and Charmer was on account of Gen. Weitzel's dam projecting out too near the chute, forming an eddy which forces boats descending too far to the right. We understand that Gen. Weitzel has promised to cut off 30 feet of this dam next season. When this is done it will make a decided improvement, and boats will not be so liable to accident.

—The Paducah Kentuckian of the 21st inst., says: "We learned yesterday evening that the steamer Dick Johnson has been sold to the Memphis and Louisville Railroad Company, and has turned back from Danville, and will hereafter run regularly from Danville to Florence. Capt. Lee Howell will retain command until the company put a new crew on her, and he will then take command of the Mountain Belle. She will probably run in the Evansville and Florence trade."

—A private letter from Sioux City dated the 21st, says the gorge there still holds, but a channel is opened on the opposite side of the river. There are several boats froze in below, but no danger to them is apprehended. Capt. Greenough left the Mary McDonald at Memphis, and came up by rail. He says the boat will be turned over to her owners the same as when she left St. Louis, which was in first-class order.

—The Louisville Courier of Monday says: The towboat Falls Pilot towed through the canal eight empty coal barges belonging to J. P. Risher, Pittsburgh. She moored them at Pumpkin Patch. These barges went over the Falls last May, and have been lying idle ever since. She also brought through the canal five barges from West Louisville, brought up by the Simpson Horner on her last trip.

—The Sioux City Journal of the 22d says: The Nellie Peck, Captain Grant Marsh, will leave for Whetstone in the early part of next week, and upon her return will leave for Fort Benton. The high water at Vermillion did no particular damage, though a few houses on low ground were flooded. Yesterday afternoon there was an ice gorge in the Missouri just below Vermillion, of some two miles in length.

—Capt. Neal says that in other days he used to avoid leaving port on Friday, believing that it was an unlucky day. Since entering the Cairo and New Orleans trade he has often been compelled to clear on that day, and in doing so never yet failed to have a paying trip. He consequently thinks that the old superstition is a humbug.

—All the dry freight and most of the damaged freight has been removed from the Charmer, sunk on the falls, but she cannot be raised until there is a rise in the river.

—The Richmond was appraised for $50,000. Her former appraisement, it seems, was not enough.

SOUTH PITTSBURGH COUNCIL.

Meeting Last Evening—The New Council Chamber Inaugurated—The Election of Officers and Appointment of Committees—The Borough Bond Question Discussed—Bills Ordered to be Paid—Routine Business.

The Borough Council of South Pittsburgh held a regular monthly meeting at the new engine house, at the corner of Carson and Fourth streets, Burgess Murray in the chair. The meeting was called to order at a few minutes before eight o'clock.

The roll being called by the clerk, the following members responded to their names: Messrs. Cassiday, Harris, Kerr, Moorhead, Brown, and Burgess Murray.

The minutes of last meeting were read and approved.

The Clerk read a communication from J. S. Stewart, Treasurer of the borough, giving a statement of the financial condition of the borough. The report showed that the borough was indebted to the Treasurer to the amount of $345.93, at date of statement. The Burgess explained that this was not the regular report of the Treasurer. That official had merely made this statement in compliance with a request, to show the state of the borough finances.

On motion of Mr. Haines, the communication was received and referred to the Burgess' Auditor.

Mr. Moorhead moved that Council proceed to the election of officers.

A bill from John M. Irwin for three dozen chairs, for the engine house, for $63 was presented.

Mr. Cassiday stated that the chairs had not been ordered by the Fire Committee, and that committee could not approve the bill.

Mr. Cassiday moved that, since the chairs had, as it were, been forced upon them, Mr. Irwin be offered half price for them, and if he did not see fit to take that, that he would be allowed to take them away.

Mr. Moorhead offered as an amendment, that the bill be laid over for further consideration.

Mr. Haines suggested that it would be well to request Mr. Irwin to inform Council who ordered the chairs.

The amendment of Mr. Moorhead, to lay the bill over for the present, was carried.

A bill from J. W. Patterson, for services in surveying streets, for the amount of $48, was presented.

The Burgess thought that these bills should not be presented until the various committees had been appointed, so that the bills might be passed upon by the appropriate committees.

The bill was, on motion, laid over until it might be acted upon by the proper committee.

A bill from the Street Commissioner for $120.49 was also presented.

Mr. Haines thought that this bill should be paid, as it was for work done on the streets, and, as the workmen were depending upon their days' wages for sustenance, this bill should be paid. He m a warrant be ordhred for its payment. Carried.

Mr. Haines moved that warrants be drawn for the payment of officers Stemler and Haworth for one month's service, as police officers. Carried.

A bill from Charles Kolbecker, for $23.75, for attending fire plugs, was presented, and a warrent ordered for its payment.

A warrant was ordered for the payment to Nicholas Hindman, of $15, for one month's services as lamplighter.

Mr. Moorhead stated that Mr. Stewart, the Borough Treasurer, was present, and he though he should be allowed to make a statement with reference to the borough bonds.

Mr. Stewart stated that at the last meeting the Treasurer was authorized to negotiate for borough bonds. He did not know that any bonds had ever been issued and he had no power to act.

The Burgess stated that the record did not show that any bonds had ever been issued.

Mr. Stewart stated that a bill had passed the Legislature authorizing the issue of these bonds, some time ago. At that time the bonds could have been negotiated at 77 per cent., but hedid not feel justified in negotiating the bonds at that rate. Afterward he understood a new bill had been passed by the Legislature, but he had never seen it. He had heard that a committee had been appointed by Council to consult with him with reference to negotiating for the purchase of the bonds, but he had never seen any such committee.

Mr. Cassiday suggested that a committee be now appointed to wait upon the Treasurer, and request him to endeavor to negotiate the bonds.

The Burgess stated that the Committee of Finance should have some voice in this matter. The matter should be postponed until after the appointment of the committees.

The following committees were now announced by the Burgess:

Finance—Messrs. Kerr, Brown and Haines.

Streets—Messrs. Haines, Cassiday and Williams.

Fire and Hose—Messrs. Brown, Kerr and Moorhead.

Mr. Moorhead moved to proceed to the election of borough officers. Carried.

For Treasurer, Messrs. H. D. Rolfe, Joseph Stewart and Charles Melling were nominated.

The result of the first ballot was—Rolfe, 3; Stewart, 2; Melling, 1. Mr. Rolfe was announced as being duly elected.

For Street Commissioner, Mr. Wm. E. Richards, was elected by acclamation.

For Constable, John Stemler and Charles Havis were nominated.

The ballot resulted in the election of Mr. Stemler by a vote of 4 to 1.

The Burgess announced that it would be in order to proceed to the election of official papers—two in the city, one English and one German—and one on the South Side.

On motion of Mr. Kerr the GAZETTE was elected English official paper by acclamation. For German paper in the city, the Freiheits Freund was also elected by acclamation. For the South Side, the Ledger, received the majority of votes, and, on motion, it was made unanimous.

For Borough Solicitor, Samuel Harper and A. M. Brown were nominated. Mr. Harper having received a majority of votes cast, was declared elected.

Mr. Cassiday raised the question as to the legality of the election of City Treasurer. Mr. Rolfe had received a plurality, but not a majority.

The Burgess stated that he had ruled that Mr. Rolfe had been elected. The gentleman could appeal from the decision of the chair, if he was so disposed.

Mr. Cassiday now appealed from the decision of the chair, and the vote being taken, the chair was sustained in his decision.

Mr. Cassidy said that a bill had been presented, some months ago, by Mr. G. B. Stover for hose furnished the borough some ten months ago.

The Burgess stated that no such bill had been presented to this Council. A new bill might be made out and presented to this Council. The proper way would then be to refer it to the Finance Committee.

Mr. Cassiday maintained that such a bill had been regularly presented, and he thoughtt a warrant ordered for its payment. Mr. Stover had several times asked him for the money, and it should certainly be paid.

The chair stated that if such a warrant had been ordered, there was no record on the minute pook at present in the hands of the clerk.

Mr. Haines moved that the Burgess be instructed to collect all books, papers, &c., belonging to the borough. Carried.

Mr. Kerr moved that when the Council adjourned, it be to meet on Monday evening next, in special session, to transact unfinished business. Carried. Council adjourned.

Public Entertainments.

FIFTH AVENUE OPERA HOUSE.—Another delighted audience witnessed the presentation of the pleasing drama of the "Long Strike" at the Fifth Avenue last evening, by Manager Beamer's company. The attachees of the establishment will take a benefit this evening upon which occasion the "Long Strike" will be repeated. The house should be full. On Friday evening, on the occasion of Manager Beamer's benefit, Sheridan Knowles' favorite play of "The Hunchback" will be presented, the performance to conclude with the "Laughing Hyena." Secured seats can be had by application at the box office.

PITTSBURGH OPERA HOUSE.—Another large audience gathered at the Pittsburgh Opera House last evening, on the occasion of the second representation, in this city, of "Buffalo Bill." The playing of Mr. Gotthold, who sustains the leading part in this piece, is always highly pleasing to a Pittsburgh audience, and he is winning fresh laurels in "Buffalo Bill." The various characters in the cast are well sustained, with very few exceptions. The play will be repeated this evening.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—The box office for the sale of seats for the engagement of Robert McWade, in his beautiful adaptation of Washington Irving's legend of "Rip Van Winkle" will be opened on Friday morning at nine o'clock. It is the intention of Manager Beamer to follow the engagement of Mr. McWade, which begins on Monday, April 1st, and is to last for one week, with other stars of the first order. We predict for him a successful spring season.

MANAGER BEAMER will take a grand complimentary benefit at the old Opera House next Friday night. We are sorry that another night than that of Good Friday should not have been selected, as we are sure that hundreds will be debarred, through religious promptings, from putting in an appearance on an occasion in which all amusement lovers are, or at least should be, deeply interested. Mr. Beamer has for several years catered, with varying pecuniary success, to the theatrical wants of our people, and has established for himself a most enviable and proud record as a manager. He has never before appeared as a beneficiary, and on this occasion it is because his friends have forced him into the position that he consents to take a parting benefit at the old theatre in which he has so manfully struggled to furnish first-class and legitimate entertainments. The bill will be a good one, and if there is one spark of generosity or appreciation left in the hearts of our amusement goers, there will not be a seat left unsold, whether occupied or not, for next Friday evening. Manager Beamer deserves such an acknowledgment. Let him have it.

Interesting Calculations.

The study of figures has ever been one of the most popular and carefully attended to in our public schools. A pupil who is proficient in figures always receives much commendation. There are problems, however, which the most perfect arithmaticians cannot solve. Nearly one-third of the Sewing Machines in use in this county to-day are made by the Singer Company. Who will attempt to calculate the number of stitches made by them daily? Who can make an approximate guess as to the number of persons who day by day use the Singer? The fact that this machine is represented in so large a percentage of houses in the United States is the best recommendation it can have.

YESTERDAY a capias was issued by Prothonotary Ross on Paul and Ursula Derr, against whom Mary Spiedel had entered legal proceedings for malicious prosecution. Mary alleges that the Derrs some time ago made information against her for larceny, and that when it came to be examined there was nothing in it. She believes the charge to have been made to cause her trouble.

CHIP bonnets, which were so much in vogue last season, will enjoy an equal degree of favor during the coming spring and summer. Split straws, Milan braids, in various brown and gray tints, Leghorns and Tuscans, are among the varieties, as are the stylish rough and readies, the Nepolitan, and other hair bonnets, with a few fancy brands. The latest fashion in trimming bonnets is with four or five small humming birds on the front, with lace rosettes and ribbons. The next thing will be to have a bird's nest on the top.

A DISCIPLE of Esculapius and a police officer were engaged yesterday afternoon in hunting on Montgomery avenue, Allegheny, for a pigeon with which to tempt the palate of their sick friend, His Honor. After herculean exertions and many remarkaable shots,—chiefly remarkable for the danger to which luckless pedestrians were exposed thereby—the sporting twain succeeded in bringing down a fine bird,—of an antediluvian age, but a bird anyhow—with which they returned homeward elated.

MR. FRED DUTHEIMER, a resident of East Liberty, on Monday evening met with a very serious accident. While driving a horse attached to a wagon over a bridge in the district referred to, the animal became frightened by the load pushing forward upon him, and ran away. Mr. D. was thrown from his seat under the wheels of the wagon, and had his legs fractured, and was otherwise considerably bruised. He was taken to McClarran's drug store and attended by Dr. Perchment, and later in the evening taken to his home. He will likely recover from his injuries.

IT should be borne in mind by those designing to re-paper the walls of their sleeping rooms, as a part of "spring cleaning" that the green so much in use, and whose color and shades are so pleasing to the eye, is made with an arsenical preparation. People occupying apartments covered with this colored paper have frequently experienced all the symptoms of poisoning, and in many instances, which might be cited, have received fatal injury. It is believed that the preparations becoming dry, small particles of the arsenic detach from the paper, and like a palpable powder float in the air and are breathed into the lungs.

ACCORDING to announcement, a grand literary entertainment was given at the "Valley" church, Findley township, on Friday evening, the 22d inst. At an early hour the people commenced to congregate, and the rush continued until the house was filled to overflowing. The stage was beautifully decorated and showed that the young ladies who had charge of this part of the arrangements were persons of excellent taste and judgment. Under the wreath in front of the stage was suspended a large oval frame, which surrounded a picture of the celebrated writer and humorist after whom the Society is named, "Mark Twain." The letters "M. T. L. S." neatly trimmed in pine surrounded the "phiz" of "Mark." The entertainment was a success in every way.

One Man Killed and Another Wounded.

About one o'clock on Saturday afternoon last the boiler of a portable saw-mill, the property of Mr. Joseph Bebe, situated in Carrolltown, ten miles north of Ebensburg, Cambria county, exploded from excess of steam, and instantly killed one of the sons of the proprietor and another young man named Zolner, besides tearing off one of the arms of another son of Mr. Bebe and injuring him otherwise very severely. Mr. B. himself if also said to have been hurt badly. The mill is reported to be an almost entire wreck. The immediate cause of the accident is not known to a certainty.

Why Is It

That so many persons have paid for their pianos and organs, and left them with S. Hamilton & Co., until after April 1? Simply because they are wise, in taking advantage of the extremely low prices and easy terms on which they can now get either piano or organ of S. Hamilton & Co., knowing that after April 1 business revives, and of course prices can be maintained, and by buying now they can save 20 to 30 per cent. on their purchases. Another reason is the well known fact that purchasers of the Unrivalled Decker & Barnes Patent Pin Block Piano cannot always be promptly supplied unless ordered in advance, so great is the demand for these superb pianos. They have also a fine stock of Hallet & Davis' Pianos, Cramer & Co.'s and Bradford & Co.'s Pianos, and the celebrated Taylor & Farley Celeste Organs, in their new, elegant and attractive cases. For special bargains and easy terms, call before April 1st, at

THE Oregon Republican State Convention endorsed the administration of Grant and Colfax.

GOV. PARKER, of New Jersey, says he has not been officially notified of his nomination for the Vice Presidency of the Labor party, nor has Judge Davis.

THE Colored National Labor Union, organized in the interest of the Republican party, and numbering upward of three hundred organizations, principally in the South, are preparing for the campaign.

THE Hartford Courier finds an explanation for the refusal of the Rhode Island Democratic Convention to adopt a new platform or reaffirm the old: "The Democrats of Connecticut ruined themselves by adopting a set which they don't believe in, and the Rhode Island fellows are smart enough to see that no resolutions at all will be better for them than a bogus lot."

IT is said that Governor Warmoth, of Louisiana, visited Washington for the purpose of proposing a compromise with the Custom House faction, and to ask the President to urge it upon his friends in Louisiana. The plan was to form a new State Committee, composed equally of the two factions, and Marshall Packard to remain chairman of it. The President refused to make terms, and Warmoth is said to have gone home declaring his purpose to work for Grant's defeat by all the means at his command.

UNDER the statutes of California, a tax of $5 has been levied on each passenger arriving in that State by sea from foreign ports. Four natives of New Granada, arriving in San Francisco, in good health and abundantly able to take care of themselves, refused to pay the tax, and appealed to the State Supreme Court; this tribunal has just decided that the law is unconstitutional and an infringement of the right of Congress to regulate commerce. This decision takes away the office of Commissioner of Immigration, one of the most lucrative in the State, heretofore sustained by this unconstitutional tax. Considering that California is perpetually holding out glowing inducements to immigrants, the imposition of this "entrance fee" was decidedly inconsistent.

MR. WEBB, banker, of Wabashaw, Minn., having failed in business, publishes a curious card in the Wabashaw Herald. His creditors, being naturally inflamed against him, have threatened to put him to death. "You had better not," says Mr. Webb, "for the more help I can give the assignees, the bigger will be your dividends." He then adds, with a touch of pathos quite uncommon in commercial documents: "Just at present, perhaps, I ought not to object, as it would no doubt relieve me of what now looks to be a life-long burden." Of course no angry depositor will think of killing the bankrupt banker just to oblige him. He would rather bid him live on and be miserable.

Instructions of the Pennsylvania Republican Association.

At an adjourned meeting of the Pennsylvania Republican Association of Pennsylvanians temporarily residing in Washington, D. C., last night, for the purpose of instructing their delegates to the State Convention, the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, We repose entire confidence in the integrity, ability, and patriotism of Hon. John B. Packer, Representative in Congress from the Fourteenth Congressional district of our State, and believing that his purity of character, personal popularity, location, and eminent qualifications render him the most available man in Pennsylvania to be presented by the Republican State Convention, at Harrisburg, on the 10th day of April next, as the candidate for Governor; therefore be it Resolved, That this, the Pennsylvania Republican Association, of Washington, D. C., claiming to be a representative body of the whole State, do hereby instruct their delegates to the State Convention to use all honorable means to secure the nomination of the Hon. J. B. Packer for Governor.

Resolved, That our delegates are hereby requested and instructed to use all honorable exertions to promote the nomination of Hon. Ulysses Mercur, of Bradford county, by said convention as our candidate for election to the office of Judge of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.

Resolved, That we have undiminished confidence in the high character, unquestioned integrity and tried statesmanship of President Grant, and that as members of the Republican party, identified with the onward march of progress, and proud of its history, we point with satisfaction to the fulfillment of his pledges and the faithful discharge of the many and responsible duties of his exalted position as the surest evidence of his fidelity and as the best assurance that can be given of the confidence with which the American people may rely upon him for an honest, fearless, independent and upright administration of the Government during the next Presidential term.

THE Perry (Ga.) Home Journal has the following apparently serious account of a very remarkable phenomenon: A very singular sight has been seen recently by some of our citizens. It appears to be a moving star, and is seen in the southwest, about ten degrees above the horizon. It moves in every direction, and sometimes goes a distance of apparently several degrees in the sky. It has been seen by a number of persons at different times and from several different localities. Several have changed their position, while looking at it, so as to bring a tree between them and the star, and soon the star will move from behind the tree and be visible again. Its motions are eccentric and appear to be guided by no law, but it appears constantly to get back to the place from which it started. It was seen by Mr. Macauly, who lives about three miles northwest of Perry; it was afterwards seen by Gen. Warren, Col. Grice, Rev. W. J. Collins, and others, whose characters make any deception in the matter impossible. Who can solve the mystery?

THE Cleveland Leader says: "Poor but honest agriculturists who sell hay in the spring, will soon commence hauling stones to the city for those who prefer to buy their hay by the load and insist on good weight.

AT a Buffalo public school on Thursday morning, James Walsh said it was the nicest pistol he ever saw, and James Doyles said he thought so too, and wanted to look at it again, and then the doctor came and dressed Jimmy Walsh's leg.

FRANK BUCKLAND, of England, writes to Seth Green, the New York fish breeder, that he has successfully introduced American brook trout into English waters. From eggs sent him three years ago by Mr. Green, he now has trout of two and three pounds weight.

JOAQUIN MILLER is to lecture in New England next fall. By way of an advertisement he has deserted and been divorced from his wife, has got engaged to a Scotch peeress, and wears a shirt with pink boa-constrictors writhing on a green ground.—Chicago Post.

MRS. KEEP, widow of the late Henry Keep, has given $100,000 to the New York Homœopathic Institution for the Blind, situated on the corner of Twenty-third street and Third avenue. She has also promised to furnish all the beds and bedding, and has made five gentlemen honorary members for life.

EXTENSIVE discoveries of lead have been recently made in Newton county, Missouri. A block sheet of pure mineral, with verticle shoots pointing to heavy deposits below, was found at a depth of ten feet. From this deposit pieces of pure lead weighing from 100 to 800 pounds are being taken out.

A CURIOUS confirmation of the truth of Thackeray's assertion that a lady could not write a letter without underscoring some of the words was shown in Queen Victoria's recent letter to the people, acknowledging her gratification at the enthusiastic reception with which she was greeted In it three words are underscored.

THE Uniontown Genius of Liberty says: Not unfrequently the mail is carried back and forth between Connellsville and Cumberland, and we don't get it until the next day. The same may be said of small freights, which are often a whole week, and sometimes longer, in getting from Baltimore to Uniontown. Some of the employes on the road are certainly culpable.

WHILE workman were digging a cellar on Chew street in Allentown, between Ridge road and Second street, recently, they discovered a box, one foot long inside, six inches wide at one end and five at the other, and about six inches high, which was buried about thirteen inches under ground. It appears to have been buried several years ago. On opening the box it was found to contain a couple of shirt buttons and the duts of an infant.

THE Leipsic Tageblatt has recently published a manifesto, issued by the police, warning the population that agents accredited by the London International Workingmen's Association are known to be in the town seeking to recruit members for that Society. As the association's aims are opposed to all existing government, and to the cause of order the police must treat membership as a punishable offence, and will bring to justice all such of whom it shall hear that they have joined.

SEVERAL scholars of the Realschule in Haspe having amused themselves, in the course of a walk, by singing the old and well-known German song: Der Papst lebt herrlich in der Welt (the Pope he leads a jolly life), were denounced by a chaplain to Director Stahlberg as having committed "blasphemy," and sentenced to two hours imprisonment in the Carcer of the school. This is the first time that the Infallible has been formally recognised as a Divinity—as the fourth person of the Godhead.—Boesen Zeitung.

A DOLLY VARDEN dress is thus described for the benefit of ignorant people. "A 'Dolly Varden' is a moire antique dress pattern, and it is made of some material, and is cut baisted at the top and bottom and trimmed with Honiton polonaises and tube-roses, with a peplum running two chains and three links to the southwest from the starting point, around the skirts of civilization, and pinned together with a self-acting safety-pin. The figures are so large that it takes eight dress patterns to show them off to advantage."

ONE of the Astor family has lately presented a very valuable autograph letter, which cost seven hundred dollars, relating to the discovery of America, to the Astor Library. In this connection we may mention that the librarian of the Royal Library at Brussels has recently discovered a MS., in twelve chapters, containing the original autograph account of the discovery of Australia, by Manuel Godinho, a Portuguese, who touched there in 1601, and whose priority to the Dutch sailor's leader, Van Dieman, who arrived three or four years later is, it is believed, is thus established.

AN instrument has been invented in Germany which will measure, with perfect accuracy, the heat of the hottest furnace. It is based on the principle that the resisaance of pure metals to the electric current increases with the temperature in a very simple ratio. A platinum wire of known resistance is coiled around a cylinder of fine clay, and covered with a tube of the same material. The tube is a Daniells battery, of two cells, and with a resistance measurer, and placed in the furnace whose temperature is to be ascertained. It is then only necessary to read off the indications of temperature on the graduated resistance pressure.

CHAPLAIN CUDWORTH, of the Massachusetts Legislature, was very properly rebuked Wednesday for his political praying. Having expressed a desire in his prayer that the Legislature might favor woman suffrage, one of the members arose and protested against any outsider taking part in the business of that body, and embodied his protest in a resolution, which was adopted. The rebuke to the irreverent prayer-maker was as neat as it was timely. The offence of Chaplain Cudworth was not the first one, it having been his constant practice to introduce the pending business of the day in his prayer, either favorably or unfavorably, according to his personal inclination.

THE Hartford Courant says: "A Republican legislature working in harmony with a Republican Governor, saves money to the State. In the years that the Democrats have elected the Governor expenses have been increased. During the last six years we have had three years of united Republican rule, and three years in which the government has been Democratic. Under a clean Republican administration the legislative and contingent expenses were $216,185.48. With a Democratic Governor, in the other three years, the expenses have been up to $261,055.87, showing that the people have paid $44,870.39 for the luxury of electing a Democrat. It is too costly and will not be repeated."

IT is astonishing how many ways naughty boys devise for tormenting their anxious parents. Last week, a lad absconded from Abington, Mass., went to Boston, and telegraphed to his progenitors that their son had fallen from a pier and had been drowned. This intelligence nearly crazed the mother. The father, having made arrangements for a funeral, rushed to Boston for the corpse, while the young man returned to Abington to attend his own obsequies. Upon the whole, perhaps it would have been better if the telegram had told the truth. We are not, as a general rule, in favor of corporal punishment; but our advice to these poor parents is to subject the ingenious lad to a reasonable fustigation.

The Cleveland Herald makes bold to bestow this gratuitous counsel: "Publish it beforehand that such Democrats as Voorhees and Hendricks are supporters of the movement, and thousands of Republicans who don't quite like Grant but dislike Democracy more, will be warned off before becoming committed to what they will see to be a foregone coalition, in which Democratic ideas and influences will necessarily predominate." Another journal of the same character sees proper to volunteer the information that "it will not be proper for any one to attend the Cincinnati Convention who has not fully made up his mind to go squarely out of the Republican party. No one will be welcomed at Porkopolis who is not prepared to go the whole hog."

THE landslide on the line of the San Paulo Railroad bids fair to produce a temporary interruption of the shipment of coffee from Brazil. About 200,000 bags per month, being more than half of all the coffee exported from Brazil, was transported by means of the San Paulo Railroad to the port of Santos. Until the proper repairs can be made in the railroad, the only means of transporting coffee to the sea-side will be by a very long and tedious process. It must first be carried on the backs of mules by devious paths along the base of the Sierras do Mar to Juiz de Fora, a distance of over a hundred miles. At this place it can be taken in vehicles along the high road to Mana, where it may be carried in barges to Rio de Janeiro. If the delay in repairing the railroad should be four months, as estimated, the amount of coffee transported to Rio de Janeiro by the route above described may prove a most inadequate substitute for the 800,000 bags which would ordinarily be shipped for exportation.

TEXAS.

United States District Court Adjourned—Gen. Cortina Indicted.

BROWNSVILLE, March 26.—The United States District Court, Judge Morrill presiding, being the first federal court held here for several years, has concluded the session. Many convictions for smuggling and breaches of the internal revenue laws have occurred. The Judge exercised clemency in sentencing criminals, as the federal laws on this frontier had been neglected so long that such crimes had come to be looked upon as not venal. He warned them that hereafter offenders would have due notice that the laws must be enforced.

The Grand Jury has indicted the Mexican General John N. Cortina for levying war against the United States, and has made a presentment of the facts of armed bands of Mexican raiders stealing cattle on the Mexican border to the Court, for the purpose of securing protection from the United States Government. The Court adjourns to-day until October.
